Historical Romance A Slave To Love:

A Slave to Love Alexa Montrose,2015 Ancient Rome and the Construction of Modern Homosexual Identities Jennifer Ingleheart,2015 This interdisciplinary volume analyses the importance of ancient Rome in the construction of post classical Western homosexual identities A Chronological Index to Historical Fiction Boston Public Library,1875 A Chronological Index to Historical Fiction Anonymous,2024-01-27 Reprint of the original first published in 1875 The Power of Neo-Slave Fiction and Public History Grant Rodwell,2023-10-13 Professional historians schools colleges and universities are not alone in shaping higher order understanding of history The central thesis of this book is the belief historical fiction in text and film shape attitudes towards an understanding of history as it moves the focus from slavery to the enslaved from the institution to the personal families and feminist accounts In a broader sense this contributes to a public history In part using the quickly growing corpus of neo slave counterfactual narratives this book examines the notion of the emerging slavery public history and the extent to which this is defined by literature film and other forms of artistic expression rather than non fiction popular or scholarly and education in history in the school systems Inter alia this book looks to the validity of historical fiction in print or in film as a way of understanding history A focal point of this book is the hypothesis that neo slave narratives supported by selective triangulated readings and viewings of scholarly works and non fiction have assisted greatly in re shaping the historiography of antebellum slavery and scholarly historians followed in the wake of these developments Essentially this has meant a re shaping of the historiography with a focus from slavery to that of the enslaved Moreover it has opened new vistas for a public history devoid of top down authoritative scholarship An important and provocative read for students and scholars interested in understanding the history of slavery its harrowing effects and how it was culturally defined Historical Fiction for Children Fiona M. Collins,Judith Graham,2013-10-18 Historical fiction has a great deal to offer as its readers and devotees have always known The time is ripe however for the historical novel and historical picture book to be promoted more emphatically so that many more are made aware of the delight and learning to be found in the genre The editors of this book invited authors academic writers and teachers to reflect on the nature scope range and richness of historical fiction for children What is collected here provides an overview of the field a consideration of significant writers of historical fiction from the nineteenth century onwards a sense of the various historical eras commonly explored Stone Age to World War 2 a discussion of commonly raised issues themes and topics such as child labor slavery and migration and a forum for writers to reveal their insights into the writing of historical fiction Julian Atterton Berlie Doherty Michael Foreman and Philip Pullman have made contributions It provides evidence of children and students engaging creatively with historical fiction Conflict and Colonialism in 21st Century Romantic Historical Fiction Hsu-Ming Teo,Paloma Fresno-Calleja,2024-06-13 This book explores how postmillennial Anglophone women writers use romantic narrativisations of history to explore revise repurpose and challenge the past in their novels exposing the extent to which past societies were damaging to women by instead imagining alternative histories The novelists discussed employ the generic conventions of romance to narrate their understanding of historical and contemporary injustice and to reflect upon women's achievements and the price they paid for autonomy and a life of public purpose The volume seeks firstly to discuss the work of revision or reparation being performed by romantic historical fiction and secondly to analyse how the past is being repurposed for use in the present It contends that the discourses and genre of romance work to provide a reparative reading of the past but there are limitations and entrenched problems in such readings

Travel and Colonialism in 21st Century Romantic Historical Fiction Paloma Fresno-Calleja, Hsu-Ming Teo, 2024-12-16 Romantic fiction has often involved stories of travel In narratives of the journey towards love romance often involves encounters with exotic places and peoples When history is invoked in such stories the past itself is exoticised and treated as other to the present to serve the purposes of romanticisation a narrative strategy by which all manner of things settings characters costumes customs consumables are made to perform a luxuriant otherness that amplifies the experience of love This volume questions the reparative function of Anglophone romantic historical fiction to ask can plots of travel and discourses of tourism empower women while narrating stories of healing for the wounds of the past This is the first volume to consider how romanticised and exoticised women's historical fiction not only serves the purposes of armchair travel but may also replicate colonial discourse unintentionally positioning readers as neocolonial neo Orientalist cultural voyeurs as well as voyagers

American Historical Fiction Lynda G. Adamson, 1998-10-21 This publication will fill a gap in the bibliographic reference shelf by identifying historical novels for both adult and young adult readers I American Historical Fiction R contains over 3 000 titles set in states and historical regions of the United States Entries are organized by time period The newest titles as well as old favorites are covered The volume is indexed by author title genre subject and geographic setting

New Approaches to Popular Romance Fiction Sarah S.G. Frantz, Eric Murphy Selinger, 2014-01-10 Despite the prejudices of critics popular romance fiction remains a complex dynamic genre It consistently maintains the largest market share in the American publishing industry even as it welcomes new subgenres like queer and BDSM romance Digital publishing originated in erotic romance and savvy online communities have exploded myths about the genre's readership Romance scholarship now reflects this diversity transformed by interdisciplinary scrutiny new critical approaches and an unprecedented international dialogue between authors scholars and fans These eighteen essays investigate individual romance novels authors and websites rethink the genre's history and explore its interplay of convention and originality By offering new twists in enduring debates this collection inspires further inquiry into the emerging field of popular romance studies

Nationalism and Desire in Early Historical Fiction Ian Dennis, 1997-07-13 Nationalism and Desire in Early Historical Fiction analyses a sequence of early nineteenth century British and American texts from a perspective informed by Rene Girard's theory of triangular of mimetic desire Jane Porter's The Scottish Chiefs Sydney Owenson's The Wild Irish Girl Sir Walter Scott's Waverley Old Mortality Rob Roy The Pirate and Redgauntlet and Fenimore Cooper's The Last of the Mohicans and Lionel Lincoln are given detailed new readings General conclusions about the relationship of desire and nationalism in historical fiction are proposed

To Be Continued Hope Apple, Merle L. Jacob, 2000-10-10 Keeping track of prolific authors who write fiction series was quite challenging for even the most ardent fan until To Be Continued debuted in 1995 Now readers will be happy that the soon to be released second edition has added 1 600 new books and 400 new series To Be Continued Second Edition maintains the first volume's successful formula that featured concise A to Z entries packed with useful information including titles publishers publication dates genre categories annotations and subject terms Among the genre categories that can be found in To Be Continued are romance science fiction crime novel horror adventure fantasy humor western war Christian fiction and others

Nationalism and Identity Stefano Harney, 1996 The nation state of Trinidad and Tobago offers a unique case for the study of the forces and ideologies of nationalism This book reveals how this ethnically diverse nation 40% African origin 40-45% East Indian origin plus those of Syrian Chinese Portuguese French and English descent independent for less than forty years has provided fertile ground for the creative tension between the imagination of the writer in his or her search for a habitable text of identity and the official discourse on nationalism in Trinidad and Tobago This discourse has in turn been embedded in a struggle that propels the nation's story Following on from this background the study examines the changes and influences on the sense of nationalism and peoplehood caused by migration and the ethnicization of migrant communities in the metropolises Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction Greg Forter, 2019-01-17 This bold and ambitious volume argues that postcolonial historical fiction offers readers valuable resources for thinking about history and the relationship between past and present. It shows how the genre's treatment of colonialism illustrates continuities between the colonial era and our own and how the genre distills from our colonial pasts the evanescent utopian intimations of a properly postcolonial future. Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction arrives at these insights by juxtaposing novels from the Atlantic world with books from the Indian subcontinent. Attending to the links across these regions, the volume develops luminous readings of novels by Patrick Chamoiseau, J. G. Farrell, Amitav Ghosh, Marlon James, Hari Kunzru, Toni Morrison, Marlene van Niekerk, Arundhati Roy, Kamila Shamsie, and Barry Unsworth. It shows how these works not only transform our understanding of the colonial past and the futures that might issue from it but also contribute to pressing debates in postcolonial theory, debates about the politics of literary forms, the links between cycles of capital accumulation and the emergence of new genres, the meaning of working through traumas in the postcolonial context, the relationship between colonial and panoptical power, the continued salience of hybridity and mimicry for the study of colonialism, and the tension between national liberation struggles and transnational forms of solidarity. Beautifully written and meticulously theorized, Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction will be of interest to students of world literature, Marxist critics, postcolonial theorists, and thinkers of the utopian.

Contemporary Authors Terrie M. Rooney, 1999 Your students and users will find biographical information on approximately 300 modern writers in this volume of Contemporary Authors. Authors in this volume include Robert W. Chambers, William Jefferson Clinton, Paul Ruebens, Timberlake Wertenbaker Blaze of Lightning, Roar of Thunder Helen Rosburg, 2008-08-01 Scalp hunters massacred her family, all the people of her village, and left Louisa Rodriguez for dead. Years later, when horse wrangler Ring Crossman came across the half-wild woman in the wilderness, she would not tell him her name. He gave her his heart, although he knew there was no room in her life for anything but revenge Narratives of Dependency Elke Brüggen, Marion Gymnich, 2024-05-20 Given that strong asymmetrical dependencies have shaped human societies throughout history, this kind of social relation has also left its traces in many types of texts. Using written and oral narratives in attempts to reconstruct the history of asymmetrical dependency comes along with various methodological challenges, as the 15 articles in this interdisciplinary volume illustrate. They focus on a wide range of different factual and fictional text types, including inscriptions from Egyptian tombs, biblical stories, novels from antiquity, the Middle High German Rolandslied, Ottoman court records, captivity narratives, travelogues, the American gift book The Liberty Bell, and oral narratives by Caribbean Hindu women. Most of the texts discussed in this volume have so far received comparatively little attention in slavery and dependency studies. The volume thus also seeks to broaden the archive of texts that are deemed relevant in research on the histories of asymmetrical dependencies, bringing together perspectives from disciplines such as

Egyptology theology literary studies history and anthropology Writers of Multicultural Fiction for Young Adults M. Daphne Kutzler, 1996-01-09 Multicultural fiction is an essential part of the American literary landscape This reference helps scholars teachers and librarians choose significant texts from both the past and present and provides guidance in approaching multicultural issues as they are discussed in fiction for young adults Included are entries for 51 writers some of whom have nearly been forgotten others who are just emerging Each entry provides biographical critical and bibliographical information while a general bibliography of works on multicultural literature concludes the book Authors included range from the nearly forgotten such as Laura Adams Armer to the newly discovered such as Graham Salisbury winner of the 1994 Scott O Dell Award for Historical Fiction The breadth of authors covered ensures an historical context for the issues raised by multiculturalism and the sections on the critical reception of each author address such important issues as the authority and authenticity of the writer to comment on a different culture Contributors are of many different ethnicities and include important scholars of children s literature lending authenticity and authority to the volume itself
