remaking by a rebellion movement the Ethiopian People s Revolutionary Democratic Front EPRDF that seized control of the Ethiopian state in 1991 after a decisive battlefield victory over an unpopular regime The new government of former rebels pledged to institute a new system of ethnic self government that celebrated ethnic diversity with a firm pledge to guarantee basic human rights After nearly three decades in office however the Ethiopian government is challenged by the resilience of identity based inequalities it ostensibly sought to end and by protests against its own policies and practices that intensified inequality The events in Ethiopia reverberating throughout the Horn of Africa have inspired heated and often polarized debates between academics policy experts political activists and the media Data D Barata contributes to this debate through a nuanced ethnographic analysis of why identities with distinct notions of inequality persist even after relentless interventions and ideological repudiations The contestations and struggles over political representation local governance cultural identities land and religion that the book examines are shaped one way or another by the global human rights discourse that has inspired millions of Africans to confront entrenched structures of power This book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of anthropology African studies political science sociology and cultural studies

Cunningham, 2017-05-15 This volume challenges the historical materialistic non capitalist modes that are used by archaeologists as not all that useful and instead considers how social labor is organized to transform nature into culturally refined and useful resources and how this can either maintain or change a culture Rather than describe what a society is using the theoretical framework of Marx and materialism a mode of production approach explores what a society does in a more dynamic sense notion of covenant as an interpretive tool Purity and Exile Liisa H. Malkki, 2012-12-14 In this study of Hutu refugees from Burundi driven into exile in Tanzania after their 1972 insurrection against the dominant Tutsi was brutally quashed Liisa Malkki shows how experiences of dispossession and violence are remembered and turned into narratives and how this process helps to construct identities such as Hutu and Tutsi Through extensive fieldwork in two refugee communities Malkki finds that the refugees current circumstances significantly influence these constructions Those living in organized camps created an elaborate mythic history of the Hutu people which gave significance to exile and envisioned a collective return to the homeland of Burundi Other refugees who had assimilated in a more urban setting crafted identities in response to the practical circumstances of their day to day lives Malkki reveals how such things as national identity historical consciousness and the social imagination of enemies get constructed in the process of everyday life The book closes with an epilogue looking at the recent violence between Hutu and Tutsi in Rwanda and Burundi and showing how the movement of large refugee populations across national borders has shaped patterns of violence in the region Children's Places Karen Fog Olwig, Eva Gullov, 2013-04-15 Children's Places examines the ways in which children and adults from their different vantage points in society negotiate the proper place of children in both social and spatial terms It looks at some of the recognised constructions of children including perspectives from cultures that do not distinguish children as a distinct category of people as well as examining contexts for them from schools and kindergartens to inner cities and war zones The result is a much needed insight into the notions of inclusion and exclusion the placement and displacement of children within generational ranks and orders and the kinds of places that children construct for themselves Based on in depth ethnographic research from Europe Asia Africa North America Australia and New Zealand Gathering Together Sami Lakomäki, 2014-08-12 Weaving Indian and Euro American histories together in this groundbreaking book Sami Lakomäki places the Shawnee people and Native peoples in general firmly at the center of American history The book covers nearly three centuries from the years leading up to the Shawnees first European contacts to the post Civil War era and demonstrates vividly how the interactions between Natives and newcomers transformed the political realities and ideas of both groups Examining Shawnee society and politics in new depth and introducing not only charismatic warriors like Blue Jacket and Tecumseh but also other leaders and thinkers Lakomäki explores the Shawnee people's debates and strategies for coping with colonial invasion The author refutes the deep seated notion that only European colonists created new nations in America showing that the Shawnees too were engaged in nation building With a sharpened focus on the creativity and power of Native political thought Lakomäki provides an array of insights into Indian as well as American history The Textual Life of Savants Gisli Pálsson, 2013-11-26 First Published in 1995 This book focuses on the role and significance of texts and textualism for anthropology and ethnography and more specifically the understanding of particular aspects of Icelandic society and history The discussion is centred on a range of issues moving between general social theory and ethnographic details the immediate present and the distant past language and production fieldwork and the act of writing texts sagas novels and ethnographies and real life In each case however it draws attention to what may be called a pragmatist approach a concern with action and agency as they constitute and are constituted by social life Such an approach I hold is an important and timely remedy to current textualism the trendy theoretical tradition often described as the linguistic turn Capitalism and Catastrophe Raja Swamy,2025-06-01 Synthesizing critical perspectives on the impact of disasters in regard to social inequality this book brings together key insights from political ecology and historical materialism Querying assumptions about the normal conditions of life it examines the exploitative structures and practices that shape everyday life using theoretical approaches including Rhythmanalysis Metabolic Rift Theory and Conjunctural Analysis It argues that disasters are intimately linked to historical processes that foster contemporary unequal relationships and should therefore include both those commonly associated with nature as well as those we consider facets of history and social conflict such as war and destitution The End of Conceit Patrick Chabal,2012-08-23 In this radical new book Patrick Chabal reveals how the future of the West is now inextricably linked to that of the non West The rise of the economic power of China and other Asian countries as well as urgent environmental issues now force the West to think in new ways about how to best face the future This is an issue which runs far deeper than present debates on the decline of the West might suggest The book argues that the postcolonial challenge from regions such as Asia Africa Latin America and the Middle East as well as the influence of citizens of non Western origins now living in the West have combined to expose the limits of Western rationality that is the theories and concepts we currently use to understand and act upon the world Discussing such provocative questions as Is it a good idea to build mosques in Europe and Is Beckham the new black icon Chabal explores the growing failure of Western social thought to explain many of our most pressing domestic social and economic issues He also discusses contentious issues in international relations such as the spread of democracy and the protection of human rights He concludes that ultimately what the West needs is not more and better theory but an entirely new way of thinking one that will put an end to its current deep seated conceit
