periods within the history of rhetoric The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric doesn't simply update but rather recasts study in the history of rhetoric The authors experienced and well known scholars in their respective fields redefine existing strands of rhetorical study within the periods expand the scope of rhetorical engagement and include additional figures and their works The globalization and expansion of rhetoric are demonstrated in each of these parts and seen clearly in the inclusion of more female rhetors discussions of historical and contemporary electronic resources and examinations of rhetorical practices falling outside the academy and the traditional canon New to this edition is a cumulative review of twentieth century rhetoric along with a thematic index designed to facilitate interdisciplinary or specialized study and scholarly research across the traditional historical periods As programs incorporating rhetorical studies continue to expand at the university level students and researchers are in need of up to date bibliographical resources No other work matches the scope and approach of The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric which carries scholarship on rhetoric into the twenty first century

Jewish Rhetorics Michael Bernard-Donals, Janice W. Fernheimer, 2014-12-02 This volume the first of its kind establishes and clarifies the significance of Jewish rhetorics as its own field and as a field within rhetoric studies Diverse essays illuminate and complicate the editors definition of a Jewish rhetorical stance as allowing speakers to maintain a resolute sense of engagement with their fellows and their community while also remaining aware of the dislocation from the members of those communities Topics include the historical and theoretical foundations of Jewish rhetorics cultural variants and modes of cultural expression and intersections with Greco Roman Christian Islamic and contemporary rhetorical theory and practice In addition the contributors examine gender and Yiddish and evaluate the actual and potential effect of Jewish rhetorics on contemporary scholarship and on the ways we understand and teach language and writing The contributors include some of the world's leading scholars of rhetoric writing and Jewish studies

Trust in Texts Susan Miller, 2008 Trust in Texts A Different History of Rhetoric challenges the accepted idea of a singular rhetorical tradition poorly maintained from the Athenian Golden Age until the present Author Susan Miller argues that oratorical rhetoric is but one among many codes that guide the production of texts and proposes that emotion and trust are central to the motives and effects of rhetoric This groundbreaking volume makes a case for historical rhetoric as disbursed formal and informal lessons in persuasion that are codified as crafts that mediate between what is known and unknown in particular rhetorical situations Traditional unified histories of rhetoric ignore the extensive historical interactions among discourses including medicine drama lyric poetry philosophy oratory and literary fiction that have operated from antiquity across cultures that are historically and geographically joined Drawing not just on traditional rhetorical works but also on texts from philosophy and literature Miller expands the body of works to be considered in the study of rhetoric As the first book length study that calls into question the centrality of logos to rhetoric Trust in Texts will change the way the history of rhetoric is viewed and taught and will be essential to scholars and students of communications rhetoric English classics and literary
