Jennifer Has Two Daddies:

Jennifer Has Two Daddies Priscilla Galloway, 1985 For ages 7-10 Jennifer spends one week with her mother and stepfather and one week with her real daddy until her real daddy has to go out of town for three weeks A Generation Abandoned Peter D. Beaulieu, 2017-04-26 A Generation Abandoned explores the disruptive cultural events especially of the past half century as these have undermined the confidence of the young in themselves and in civil society and finally in our place in the universe The overall theme is the contrast between this sense of abandonment and our inborn and neglected orientation toward personal worth and the common good the natural law Much of what is peddled as social evolution today is shown to be a throwback to darker times The analysis submits to a refreshingly conversational tone but also draws incisively from a very broad pallet of history literature theater theology and simplifying and illuminating anecdotes some of them first hand An early chapter outlines the perfect storm of the 1960s Later chapters expose the word games of the cultural elite the saga of the family through history and now its abrupt erosion and the difference between any meandering arc of history and a more grounded arc of relations our rationalized culture of death versus a flourishing human ecology What If All the Kids are White? Louise Derman-Sparks, Patricia G. Ramsey, 2006 In this compelling volume distinguished educators tackle a frequently asked question about multicultural education How do I teach about racial and cultural diversity if all my students are white The authors propose seven learning themes to help young white children resist messages of racism and build identity and skills for thriving in a multicultural country and world The text includes strategies resources and classroom examples for implementing the learning themes in early childhood settings Taking multicultural education to a new level this practical guide places the development of white children's racial identity in the context of the historical construction of whiteness and racism in America and suggests strategies for nurturing a new white identity as the starting place for anti bias multicultural work with children It includes activities for families and staff reflection questions a review of white anti racism activists lists of suggested children's books and organizational and website resources The New Speaking of Sex Meg Hickling, 2005 Whether your child is 3 and asking questions about bodies and sex and babies or thirteen and facing difficult decisions and concerns about their own sexuality this book is for you With sensitivity honesty and a good deal of humour Meg Hickling addresses the real questions she has been asked during her 20 plus years spent working with children of all ages This book provides practical up to date no nonsense suggestions and encouragement for parents addressing sexuality and sexual health issues with their children Updated and reorganised this new edition provides the same great age appropriate information as the best selling first edition Start Seeing Diversity Ellen Wolpert, 2005-06-13 Start Seeing Diversity helps teachers recognize and reduce bias in young children by illustrating one community's effort to create a responsive child care program Developed by teachers at Washington Beech Community Preschool in Boston this training handbook provides a framework for understanding bias among preschool children reorganized for stand alone use as a student text Nine detailed chapters treat six areas of bias gender age sexual orientation race and ethnicity economic class and physical abilities as well as the goals and guiding assumptions of anti bias curriculum Accompanying discussion questions encourage readers to examine their own memories and experiences Perfect for pre service and in service teacher training this helpful guide includes information rich appendices containing Guidelines for challenging oppression and responding to incidents involving bias A checklist for creating and assessing anti bias environments A guide to analyzing children s books Directions for making photograph games like the ones used at Washington Beech The book also includes sample scenarios details for classroom implementation suggested resources and guidelines for group leaders Ellen Wolpert is the founding director of the Washington Beech Community Preschool in Boston Ms Wolpert currently works for Education Development Center Inc in Newton Massachusetts

The Power of the Mayor Chris McNickle, 2017-07-28 Chris McNickle argues that New York City Mayor David Dinkins failed to wield the power of the mayor with the skill required to run the city His Tammany clubhouse heritage and liberal political philosophy made him the wrong man for the time His deliberate style of decision making left the government he led lacking in direction His courtly demeanor and formal personal style alienated him from the people he served while the multi racial coalition he forged as New York's first African American mayor weakened over time Dinkins did have a number of successes He balanced four budgets and avoided a fiscal takeover by the unelected New York State Financial Control Board Major crime dropped 14 percent and murders fell by more than 12 percent Dinkins helped initiate important structural changes to the ungovernable school system he inherited His administration reconfigured health care for the poor and improved access to medical treatment for impoverished New Yorkers McNickle argues that David Dinkins has received less credit than he is due for his successes because they were overshadowed by his failure to fulfill his promise to guide the city to racial harmony This stimulating review of a transitional period in New York City's history offers perspective on what it takes to lead and govern

Home Words Mavis Reimer, 2009-08-01 The essays in Home Words explore the complexity of the idea of home through various theoretical lenses and groupings of texts One focus of this collection is the relation between the discourses of nation which often represent the nation as home and the discourses of home in children's literature which variously picture home as a dwelling family town or region psychological comfort and a place to start from and return to These essays consider the myriad ways in which discourses of home underwrite both children's and national literatures Home Words reconfigures the field of Canadian children's literature as it is usually represented by setting the study of English and French language texts side by side and by paying sustained attention to the diversity of work by Canadian writers for children including both Aboriginal peoples and racialized Canadians It builds on the literary histories bibliographical essays and biographical criticism that have dominated the scholarship to date and sets out to determine and establish new directions for the study of Canadian children's literature

Therapy Linnet McMahon, Linnet McMahon, 2003-09-02 Child abuse cases and problems created by breakdowns in family relationships have highlighted the need for sound techniques for communicating with children. As a result, there is renewed interest in the therapeutic use of play to help prevent or repair emotional damage in both children and their families. The Handbook of Play Therapy is a comprehensive introduction to the theory and practice of play therapy. It provides a practical guide to the basic skills necessary to begin tapping the healing potential of play and gives many examples of good practice.

Introduction to Early Childhood Education Eva L. Essa, Melissa M. Burnham, 2019-01-09 Introduction to Early Childhood Education provides current and future educators with a highly readable comprehensive overview of the field. The underlying philosophy of the book is that early childhood educators' most important task is to provide a program that is sensitive to and supports the development of young children. Author Eva L. Essa and new co-author Melissa Burnham provide valuable insight by strategically dividing the book into six sections that answer the What, Who, Why, Where, and How of early childhood education. Utilizing both NAEYC National Association for the Education of Young Children and DAP Developmentally Appropriate Practice standards, this supportive text provides readers with the skills, theories, and best practices needed to succeed and thrive as early childhood educators.

LGBTQI Parented Families and Schools Anna Carlile, Carrie Paechter, 2018-05-11 Exploring the experiences of LGBTQI parents and their children and their relationship with schools, this book illuminates how these families work with schools and how schools do or do not support children of LGBTQI parents. Based on empirical research and making space for the voices of both parents and children, the research extends beyond previous studies of gay and lesbian parenting to include bisexual, transgender, queer, non-binary, and intersex parents. The authors consider the influence of pressure groups, school inspection frameworks, legislation, and the media and examine the ways in which some schools are working to become more inclusive.
