History of Architectural Conservation Jukka Jokilehto, 2007-06-07 A History of Architectural Conservation expands knowledge about the conservation of ancient monuments works of art and historic buildings It includes the origins of the interest in conservation within the European context and the development of the concepts from Antiquity and the Renaissance to the present day Jokilehto illustrates how this development has influenced international collaboration in the protection and conservation of cultural heritage and how it has formed the principal concepts and approach to conservation and restoration in today s multi cultural society This book is based on archival research of original documents and the study of key restoration examples in countries that have influenced the international conservation movement Accessible and of great interest to students and the general public it includes conservation trends in Europe the USA India Iran and Japan

A History of Architectural Conservation Jukka Jokilehto, 2017-10-20 The first book to provide a full history of the development of architectural conservation A History of Architectural Conservation is considered a landmark publication by architectural conservation students and professionals the world over Twenty years after its first publication this new edition of Jukka Jokilehto s groundbreaking book continues the story to bring the history of architectural conservation right up to the modern day Jokilehto draws on his distinguished career of over 40 years at ICCROM International Centre for the Study of the Preservation and Restoration of Cultural Property founded by UNESCO to provide studies from Europe the Middle East the USA Japan India China Australia and South America This accessible and well written introduction to the history and theory of architectural conservation is richly illustrated in full colour and will be an essential go to guide for students and practitioners worldwide

The Conservation Movement: A History of Architectural Preservation Miles Glendinning, 2013-01-17 Winner of the 2016 Antoinette Forrester Downing Award presented by the Society of Architectural Historians In many cities across the world particularly in Europe old buildings form a prominent part of the built environment and we often take it for granted that their contribution is intrinsically positive How has that widely shared belief come about and is its continued general acceptance inevitable Certainly ancient structures have long been treated with care and reverence in many societies including classical Rome and Greece But only in modern Europe and America in the last two centuries has this care been elaborated and energised into a forceful dynamic ideology a Conservation Movement infused with a sense of historical destiny and loss that paradoxically shared many of the characteristics of Enlightenment modernity The close inter relationship between conservation and modern civilisation was most dramatically heightened in periods of war or social upheaval beginning with the French Revolution and rising to a tragic climax in the 20th century age of totalitarian extremism more recently the troubled relationship of heritage and global commercialism has become dominant Miles Glendinning s new book authoritatively presents for the first time the entire history of this architectural Conservation Movement and traces its dramatic fluctuations in ideas and popularity ending by questioning whether its recent international ascendancy can last

Architectural Conservation in Asia John H. Stubbs, Robert G. Thomson, 2016-11-10 At a time when organized heritage protection in Asia is developing at a rapid pace Architectural Conservation in Asia provides the first comprehensive overview of architectural conservation practice from Afghanistan to the Philippines The country by country analysis adopted by the book draws out local insights experiences best practice and solutions for effective cultural heritage management that will inform study and practice both in Asia and beyond Whereas architectural conservation in much of the Western world has been extensively documented this book brings together coverage of many regions where architectural conservation has been understudied Following on from the highly influential companion volumes on global architectural conservation and architectural conservation in Europe and the Americas with this book the authors extend their pioneering global examination to the dynamic and evolving field of architectural conservation in Asia Throughout the book the authors and regional experts provide local case studies and profile topics that bring depth and insight to this ambitious study As architectural conservation becomes increasingly global in practice this book will be of considerable assistance to architectural conservation practitioners site managers and students of architecture planning archaeology and heritage studies worldwide

Authenticity in the Preservation of Historical Wooden Architecture - Problems and Challenges Tomasz Tomaszek, 2020-02-18 Historical wooden architecture is one of the most unique types of heritage built Built from organic material wooden buildings remain in harmony with the natural environment and fascinate future generations with its special charm Because of its uniqueness wooden buildings reflect the richness of traditional building solutions developed in different parts of the world At the same time this type of building contains the spiritual values that were important to those who built these architectural structures The main topics of Authenticity in Preserving Historical Wooden Architecture Problems and

Challenges are i The method of protection and preservation of wooden buildings as a form of specific historical interpretation ii The question of reconstruction and translocation of a wooden historical building with regard to the level of authenticity iii The analysis of the essence of historical changes and the methods for maintaining and displaying wooden structures in relation to the requirements that determine their historical and architectural authenticity Showing a variety of aspects of authenticity of wooden buildings all demonstrated by specific examples case studies Authenticity in Preserving Historical Wooden Architecture Problems and Challenges presents practical implementations of theoretical findings Hence the book contributes to the understanding of wooden architectural heritage from a new perspective The book will be of particular interest to academics and professionals interested in or involved in the preservation of built wooden heritage Keyguide to Information Sources in Museum Studies Peter Woodhead,Geoffrey Stansfield,1994 This revised and updated edition provides an integrated guide to the documentation reference aids and key organizational sources of information about museums and museum studies worldwide Part One provides an overview of museums and the literature about them Part Two is an annotated bibliography and Part Three is an international directory of organizations A detailed index completes the work

International Heritage and Historic Building Conservation Zeynep Aygen,2013-03-05 The majority of books in English on historic building conservation and heritage preservation training are often restricted to Western architecture and its origins Consequently the history of building conservation the study of contemporary paradigms and case studies in most universities and within wider interest circles predominantly in the UK Europe and USA focus mainly on Europe and sometimes the USA although the latter is often excluded from European publications With an increasingly multicultural student body in Euro American universities and with a rising global interest in heritage preservation there is an urgent need for publications to cover a larger geographical and social area including not only Asia Australia Africa and South America but also previously neglected countries in Europe like the new members of the European Community and the northern neighbour of the USA Canada The inclusion of the other in built environment education in general and in building conservation in particular is a pre requisite of cultural interaction and widening participation International Heritage and Historic Building Conservation assesses successful contemporary conservation paradigms from around the world The book evaluates conservation case studies from previously excluded areas of the world to create an integrated account of Historic Building Conservation that crosses the boundaries of language and culture and sets an example for further inclusive research Analyzing the influence of financial constraints regional conflicts and cultural differences on the heritage of disadvantaged countries this leading edge volume is essential for researchers and students of heritage studies interested in understanding their topics in a wider framework East-West Divan Aran Byrne,2014-07-15 This collection of scholarly essays on Egyptian culture history society archeology literature art and conservation is published in memory of Werner Mark Linz who spent much of the latter part of his professional life as the Director of the American University in Cairo Press East West

Divan is the first volume of the Gingko Library a publishing project that embraces scholarship from both East and West conceived by Werner Mark Linz to foster greater cross cultural understanding Among the contributors to this collection are the Egyptian novelist Alaa Al Aswany author of The Yacoubian Building Egyptian archaeologist Zahi Hawass the renowned Swiss theologian Hans K ng the author of the acclaimed A Fort of Nine Towers Qais Akbar Omar and Prince El Hassan bin Talal of Jordan

Historic Floors Jane Fawcett, 2007-06-01 This is the first book in the UK to be devoted to historic floors It introduces an important and largely neglected subject and considers conservation methods in a European context It traces the history of some of the great floors of Europe from the fourth century B C and outlines the development of mosaic tiles marble and parquet floors in secular buildings The early Christian pavements in basilicas temples and cathedrals the creation of medieval tiles ledger stones and monumental brasses their destruction by iconoclasts and re creation during the Gothic Revival are also discussed Leading authorities archaeologists architects and archivists consider the latest methods of recording and repairing cathedral floors including those of cathedrals country houses the monumental tiled pavements of the Palace of Westminster and other public buildings Management policies to protect outstanding floors in over visited sites are considered and historic features particularly at risk are identified Urgent action is recommended to contain the damage caused by the dramatic increase in tourism throughout Europe
