Making Meaning in English David Didau,2021-02-09 What is English as a school subject for What does knowledge look like in English and what should be taught Making Meaning in English examines the broader purpose and reasons for teaching English and explores what knowledge looks like in a subject concerned with judgement interpretation and value David Didau argues that the content of English is best explored through distinct disciplinary lenses metaphor story argument pattern grammar and context and considers the knowledge that needs to be explicitly taught so students can recognise transfer build and extend their knowledge of English He discusses the principles and tools we can use to make decisions about what to teach and offers a curriculum framework that draws these strands together to allow students to make sense of the knowledge they encounter If students are going to enjoy English as a subject and do well in it they not only need to be knowledgeable but understand how to use their knowledge to create meaning This insightful text offers a practical way for teachers to construct a curriculum in which the mastery of English can be planned taught and assessed Bookwork Garrett Stewart,2011-05-01 There they rest inert impertinent in gallery space those book forms either imitated or mutilated replicas of reading matter or its vestiges Strange after its long and robust career for the book to take early retirement in a museum not as rare manuscript but as functionless sculpture Readymade or constructed such book shapes are canceled as text when deposited as gallery objects shut off from their normal reading when not in some yet more drastic way dismembered or reassembled So begins Bookwork which follows our passion for books to its logical extreme in artists who employ found or simulated books as a sculptural medium Investigating the conceptual labor behind this proliferating international art practice Garrett Stewart looks at hundreds of book like objects alone or as part of gallery installations in this original account of works that force attention upon a book's material identity and cultural resonance Less an inquiry into the artist's book than an exploration of the book form's contemporary objecthood Stewart's interdisciplinary approach traces the lineage of these aggressive artifacts from the 1919 Unhappy Readymade of Marcel Duchamp down to the current crisis of paper based media in the digital era Bookwork surveys and illustrates a stunning variety of appropriated and fabricated books alike ranging from hacksawed discards to the giant lead folios of Anselm Kiefer The unreadable books Stewart engages with in this timely study are found again and again to generate graphic metaphors for the textual experience they preclude becoming in this sense legible after all

Images Paul Roberts, 2003-03 Paris at the turn of the 20th century was obsessed with the interrelations of the arts It was a time when artists and writers spoke of poetry as music sounds as colors and paintings as symphonies The music of Claude Debussy with its unique textures and dazzling colors was the perfect counterpart to the bold new styles of painting in France Paul Roberts probes the sources of Debussy's artistic inspiration relating the impressionist titles to the artistic and literary ferment of the time He also draws on his own performing experience to touch on all the principal technical problems for a performer of Debussy's piano music His many suggestions about interpreting the music will be particularly valuable to performers as well as listeners
