Decolonizing Fashion History and Period Styles Re Fashioning Pedagogies offers a wide array of inclusive global practical approaches for teaching costume and fashion history. Costume designers, technicians, and historians have spent the last several years re-evaluating how they teach costume and fashion history, acknowledging the need to refocus the discourse to include a more global perspective. This book is a collection of pedagogical methods aimed to do just that, with an emphasis on easy reference, accessible activities and rubrics, and containing a variety of ways to restructure the course. Each chapter offers a course description, syllabus, calendar, course objectives, and learning outcomes, as well as sample activities from instructors across the country who have made major changes to their coursework. Using a combination of personal narratives, examples from their work, bibliographies of helpful texts, and student responses, contributors suggest a variety of ways to decolonize the traditionally Western-focused fashion history syllabus. This collection of pedagogical approaches is intended to support and inspire instructors teaching costume design, costume history, fashion history, period styles, and other aesthetic histories in the arts.

Ancient Egyptian, Assyrian, and Persian costumes and decorations Florence S. Hornblower, Mary G. Houston, 2022-06-02 In the collection Ancient Egyptian Assyrian and Persian Costumes and Decorations, readers are invited to explore the richly woven tapestry of ancient civilizations through the lens of sartorial and decorative arts. This anthology brings together a fascinating range of illustrations and descriptive narratives that highlight the diversity and significance of costumes from these three powerful cultures. As readers journey through this volume, they are treated to visual and textual depictions that illuminate the social, religious, and cultural contexts of these ancient times, providing a compelling examination of how garments and adornments were not merely functional but also representative of identity, status, and symbolism. Curated by the perceptive scholars Florence S. Hornblower and Mary G. Houston, the collection draws upon diligent research and the keen eye of historians dedicated to unearthing the aesthetic sensibilities of the ancients. Together, they have combed through an array of historical artifacts and records to compile a selection that authentically represents the richness of these ancient garment traditions. By weaving together these varied portraits, the editors offer an insightful connection to the literary and archaeological movements dedicated to preserving antiquity's sartorial grandeur, underscoring the interconnectedness of cultural expression across these historic empires. Ideal for historians, fashion enthusiasts, or anyone passionate about antiquity, this anthology presents a unique opportunity to step into the vibrant world of ancient attire. It serves as a pivotal resource for understanding how diverse threads of culture and history are harmoniously interlaced, encouraging the reader to appreciate the intricate dialogue between different garments, objects, and civilizations presented.

within Engaging and informative this collection is both a scholarly resource and a gateway to exploring the enduring allure of ancient cosmic artistry The Art of History Vasileios Liotsakis, Scott T. Farrington, 2016-09-26 A significant trend in the study of Greek and Roman historiographers is to accept that their works are to a degree both science and fiction As scholarly interest broadens in addition to evaluating ancient historians on the basis of the reliability of the information they record and verifying the narratives against various elements of the material inscriptions excavations numismatics new studies are beginning to elaborate on the stylistic and narrative qualities of the texts themselves The present volume offers a fine collection of essays that on the whole emphasize the literary dimensions of the ancient Greek and Roman historians Offering narratological linguistic and theoretical approaches to historiography the contributors of the book elaborate on the intersections between historiography and other literary genres the literary manipulation of military events and the criteria of selectivity the reception of ancient historical texts in other genres time and space in historical narrative and plenty of other relevant topics The shared belief of the authors is that there is a close interrelation between the literary features and the scientific value of ancient Greek and Roman historiography

Perrot, Charles Chipiez, 2020-06-26 A History of Art in Ancient Egypt in two volumes is a study of Egyptian arts and of their connection with the national religion and civilization written by French archeologists and historians Georges Perrot and Charles Chipiez The aim of the work was to trace the course of the great evolution which culminated in the age of Pericles and came to an end in that of Marcus Aurelius That evolution forms a complete entirety an unbroken chain of cause and effect uniting the two eras Using carefully selected examples authors prove that the art of the Egyptians went through the same process of development as those of other nationalities earlier and later ones and that the unique quality of the sculptures and paintings of the Nile Valley was a persistent affinity to simplification which comes in part from the habit created by writing the hieroglyphic and in part from the materials used Illustrated Encyclopedia of World Costume
