The Papers of Thomas Jefferson, Retirement Series, Volume 4 Thomas Jefferson, 2018-06-05

Volume Four of this definitive edition of Thomas Jefferson's papers from the end of his presidency until his death includes 581 documents from 18 June 1811 to 30 April 1812. Between these two dates Jefferson famously declares that though an old man I am but a young gardener expresses hostility to dogs and joins in a petition for a tax to reduce their numbers calculates lines for a horizontal sundial surveys part of his Bedford County estate and draws up work schedules for his Poplar Forest plantation and detailed slave lists for Poplar Forest and Monticello. Jefferson also takes readings of a solar eclipse attempts to determine Monticello's longitude measures Willis Mountain and calls for a fixed international standard for measures weights and coins. Joseph Milligan publishes a revised edition of Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice in March 1812 and Jefferson sends William Wirt a detailed and colorful but largely negative portrait of Patrick Henry for use in his biography of the Virginia orator. Finally and perhaps of greatest importance to posterity in January 1812 correspondence resumes between Jefferson and his old friend John Adams after a long hiatus resulting from their rivalry for the presidency in 1800.

Building the Land of Dreams Eberhard L. Faber, 2018-07-10

The history of New Orleans at the turn of the nineteenth century. In 1795 New Orleans was a sleepy outpost at the edge of Spain's American empire. By the 1820s it was teeming with life its levees packed with cotton and sugar. New Orleans had become the unquestioned urban capital of the antebellum South. Looking at this remarkable period filled with ideological struggle class politics and powerful personalities Building the Land of Dreams is the narrative biography of a fascinating city at the most crucial turning point in its history. Eberhard Faber tells the vivid story of how American rule forced New Orleans through a vast transition from the ordered colonial world of hierarchy and subordination to the fluid unpredictable chaos of democratic capitalism. The change in authority from imperial Spain to Jeffersonian America transformed everything. As the city's diverse people struggled over the terms of the transition they built the foundations of a dynamic contentious hybrid metropolis. Faber describes the vital individuals who played a role in New Orleans history from the wealthy creole planters who dreaded the influx of revolutionary ideas to the American arrivistes who combined idealistic visions of a new republican society with selfish dreams of quick plantation fortunes to Thomas Jefferson himself whose powerful democratic vision for Louisiana eventually conflicted with his equally strong sense of realpolitik and desire to strengthen the American union. Revealing how New Orleans was formed by America's greatest impulses and ambitions Building the Land of Dreams is an inspired exploration of one of the world's most iconic cities.
