

Jerusalem – sections for teaching

	Potential focus areas
1: Parsons and Fawcett	Acting: the official, formality of the council officials, their bureaucratic, dehumanised power, how they provide contrast in language and delivery to others, the culture of the council, the social/cultural context of a society which relies on their box ticking/enforcement, theme of scapegoating/prejudice/power relationship. Set: the setting described on page 6 / Costume: fluorescent jackets, clipboards Lighting/sound: transition from midnight to nine o'clock, woodland, dance music, birdsong
2-3: Johnny's entrance and Ginger	Acting: How to convey Johnny's subversive entrance, status as a twisted pied piper, teller of tall tales, inexplicable charisma. Ginger as pathetic underdog, left out of events, awkwardness – outgrown the environment, hanging around with younger children. Crude language. Status relationships, establishing space as Johnny's territory. Relationship between Johnny/Ginger. The traditional song of the May Day festival (link to cultural context) – Englishness and English identity – how this idyllic tradition is juxtaposed with the crassness of Johnny urinating
5: Lee	The commercialisation of the Flinstock Fair as Ginger describes it – selling out. Relationships between the three. Acting: Lee's ultimate vulnerability, naivety, mock confidence, reliance on others. Pathetic story of getting rid of his belongings. How Lee establishes the typical activity of a night at Johnny's – the drug induced partying. Hangover. His excitement about Australia. His 'buying into' the spiritual, tribal customs (links to themes, identity, traditions, the desire for communal, simple, nature, ritual, spiritualism).
6: Davey	Comedy from repetition of the story of the previous night – Ginger as constantly downtrodden and pathetic. Acting: Davey's contentedness with Wiltshire and seeming irrational fear of anything beyond that. His feeling of comfort and safety with what he knows despite its monotony, taking comfort in the familiar. Theme of nostalgia over his past and rose-tinted vision of the wood, its activities and inhabitants. Overlapping dialogue around the phone viewing – different character's reactions to it.
7: Pea and Tanya	Grotesqueness of the location/characters – the badger excrement. Subtext of the moment when Phaedra is mentioned – Johnny knows where she is – his relative silence. How he splits the log at key moments when Phaedra and the fact she is underage have been mentioned. The eventual breaking of his silence – how he pulls himself together and continues in his usual charismatic manner. Acting: Johnny's use of eye contact, physicality, facial expression to demonstrate this during silence. Pea and Tanya as crass and uncouth, youthful, naive, vulnerable, the apparent fairies of the wood who seem to fit around (link to MSND). Their foul-mouthed, coarse, vulgar retelling of the incident. The pertinence of Davey's reference to the werewolf (Phaedra's song, analogy of Johnny as the werewolf)

(Classic Reprint) Lewis Bayles Paton, 2018-01-17 Excerpt from Jerusalem in Bible Times During the season of 1903-4 it was my privilege to reside in Jerusalem as director of the American School of Oriental Study and Research and to carry on special investigations into the ancient history of the city While thus engaged I was constantly reminded of the lack of a handbook giving in convenient form the results of the latest archaeological researches Baedeker's admirable guide book is necessarily brief and discusses archaeological matters topographically rather than in the historical order that is necessary if one is to understand their significance The learned works on Jerusalem of Professor Adam Smith and of Dr Selah Merrill which have appeared since this book was written are too elaborate and expensive to be used by the ordinary student or tourist Intelligent travelers in visiting the Holy City are at the mercy of ignorant dragomen who can only repeat the worthless traditions of the particular ecclesiastical bodies with which they happen to be connected There is not a guide in Jerusalem who does not believe that the name of the southwest hill is Zion yet no scientific archaeologist of today holds that view At the time of the meeting of the World's Sunday School Convention in Jerusalem hundreds of eager people found it impossible to get either from men or from books an accurate account of the remains of the ancient city To help this difficulty I was invited to lecture before the convention and to conduct some parties about the city At the close of the meeting I was asked to put my addresses into permanent form so that it might be possible for those who had heard them and for other students of the Bible to give them more careful consideration The result of this request has been the preparation and publication of this series of studies into the archaeological history of ancient Jerusalem During the past year they have appeared in successive numbers of the Biblical World and they are now issued in book form with corrections and additions in the hope of reaching a still wider circle of readers I trust that they will prove helpful both to students at home and to travelers in the Holy About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
