Geriatric Anesthesia, An Issue of Anesthesiology Clinics Charles Brown, 2016-07-22 The volume of elderly patients requiring anesthesia and surgery is growing rapidly Thirty five percent of surgeries are performed on patients older than 65 years and in general these patients have higher morbidity and mortality rates after anesthesia compared with their younger counterparts One of the major challenges of treating elderly patients is the heterogeneity of the geriatric population and the need to individualize care for each patient to provide the best outcome

Geriatric Anesthesiology J. G. Reves, Sheila Ryan Barnett, Julie R. McSwain, G. Alec Rooke, 2017-10-27 Surgical and anesthetic techniques have evolved to allow a growing number of older adults to undergo surgery and current estimates are that 50% of Americans over the age of 65 years old will have an operation However as the knowledge regarding perioperative care of the elderly surgical patient grows so do the questions In this edition each chapter includes a section entitled Gaps in Our Knowledge meant to highlight areas in which research is needed as well as hopefully inspire readers to begin solving some of these questions themselves Building upon the strong foundation of the first two editions Geriatric Anesthesiology 3rd edition also assembles the most up to date information in geriatric anesthesia and provides anesthesiologists with important new developments Topics covered include several new chapters that reflect the evolution of multidisciplinary geriatric care throughout the perioperative continuum as well as the growing body of literature related to prehabilitation In addition discussion of the surgeon's perspective and geriatrician's perspective on surgery in the geriatric population is covered as well as the systematic physiologic changes associated with aging and the pharmacologic considerations for the geriatric patient undergoing procedures Finally the last section discusses postoperative care specific to the geriatric population including acute pain management ICU management recent evidence and up to date practice regarding delirium and postoperative cognitive dysfunction and palliative care

Principles of Geriatric Critical Care Shamsuddin Akhtar, Stanley Rosenbaum, 2018-10-25 The proportion of the population of octogenarians and elderly patients presenting for intensive care is rapidly increasing thus exacerbating the need to modify our critical care management to cater for this patient group This book will provide practical guidance on all issues related to the critical care of elderly patients incorporating physiological and epidemiological information clinical guidance ethical and end of life issues and advice about optimal use of drugs and new technologies Complications of polypharmacy high risk surgery and increased recovery times are also discussed Chapters are concise each including a list of key points and summary of available data making this a quick reference for experienced consultants as well as a useful resource for trainees preparing for exams
