cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carn Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts Nouvelle Revue Francaise ,1924 Our Right to Drugs Thomas Szasz,1996-04-01 In Our Right to Drugs Szasz shows how the present drug war started at the beginning of this century when the US government first assumed the task of protecting people from patent medicines By the end of World War I the free market in drugs was but a dim memory Instead of dwelling on the familiar impracticality and unfairness of drug laws Szasz demonstrates the deleterious effects of prescription laws which place people under lifelong medical supervision The result is that most Americans today prefer a coercive and corrupt command drug economy to a free market in drugs Szasz stresses the consequences of the fateful transformation of the central aim of US drug prohibitions from protecting the public from being fooled by mis branded drugs to protecting them from harming themselves by self medication He emphasises that a free society cannot endure if the state treats adults as if they were truant children and if its citizens reject the values of self discipline and personal responsibility After discussing the racial aspects of drug prohibition eg drug enforcers are far more likely to accost blacks than whites Szasz suggests a connection between drug prohibition and the personal dread of the availability of an easy and pleasurable way to commit suicide The Medicalization of Everyday Life Thomas Szasz,2007-10-08 This collection of impassioned essays published between 1973 and 2006 chronicles Thomas Szasz s long campaign against the orthodoxies of pharmacracy that is the alliance of medicine and the state From Diagnoses Are Not Diseases to The Existential Identity Thief Fatal Temptation and Killing as Therapy the book delves into the complex evolution of medicalization concluding with Pharmacracy The New Despotism In practice society must draw a line between what counts as medical practice and what does not Where it draws that line goes far in defining the kinds of laws its citizens live under the kinds of medical care they receive and the kinds of lives they are allowed to live The Dial Francis Fisher Browne,Waldo Ralph Browne,Scofield Thayer,Marianne Moore,1924
