Feminisms and Domesticity in Times of Crisis Jessica Martin,2025-10-02 How can we make sense of intensifying gender inequalities amid the growing visibility of popular media driven feminism Can domestic cultures offer a space for feminist response and resistance to austerity Feminisms and Domesticity in Times of Crisis seeks to address these questions exploring

how the revival of traditionally feminine domestic activities such as crafting baking and sewing exemplified by cultural figures such as the trad wife has coincided with the re politicisation and heightened visibility of domestic culture during an era of austerity Jessica Martin offers an in depth analysis of public figures who have forged austerity celebrity personas that blend domesticity with activism producing a popular but complex strand of neoliberal feminism Examining figures like Kirstie Allsopp Justine Roberts Jen Gale and anti austerity blogger and cook Jack Monroe Martin examines how each figure develops a distinct form of politicised domesticity Their responses span the political spectrum from Allsopp s promotion of the Big Society and conservative individualism to Roberts transformation of motherhood into parliamentary activism Martin also considers how this nostalgic turn to domesticity intensified during the COVID 19 crisis reinforcing narratives of white femininity patriotic stoicism and the so called British blitz spirit while helping to obscure the escalating inequalities of austerity era Britain Martin argues that the convergence of nostalgia and femininity has produced new discourses of performative thrift feminized labour and aspirational domesticity which are key resources for the justification of austerity policy

DIY Utopia Amber Day, 2016-12-22 At first glance contemporary popular culture filled with bleak images of the future seems to have given up on the possibility of positive collective change Below the surface however alternative culture is rife with artist led projects activist movements and subcultural communities of interest that seek to spark the collective imagination and to encourage hunger for alternatives More playfully self conscious than past utopian movements today's are often whimsical or ironic but are still entirely earnest Artists invite us to re author city maps or archive individual ideas for the future while maker collectives urge us to rethink our relationship to consumer goods All seem to have grown out of a similar do it yourself ethos and alternative culture One of the central conflicts informing these case studies is that while it remains immensely difficult to envision anything outside of the current system of consumer capitalism there is nevertheless a powerful desire to take it apart in piecemeal ways We see the longing for new social and political narratives new forms of communion and sociability and new imaginings of the possible longings that are currently unmet by mainstream culture but that are taking expression in myriad ways at the local level Taken as a whole this collection examines what our grand ideals and playful daydreams tell us about ourselves
