International Who's who, 1957 British Novelists Between the Wars George Malcolm Johnson, 1998 Essays on British novelists whose works challenged accepted views of literary history of the period These novelists range from those who started to write as World War I ended in 1918 to those whose literary careers began just prior to World War II in 1939 Includes discussion of industrial and regional novels rural novels animal novels as well as documentary realistic writing

Film and the Working Class Peter Stead, 2013-12-13 Taking the subject chronologically from the 1890s to when the book was initially published in 1989 this book analyses those films specifically concerned with working class conditions and struggle and discusses them within the context of the debate on the social significance of the feature film. It concentrates on films which depict labour organizations and political activists as well as life in working class communities and actors with working class identities such as James Cagney. Reviews of the original edition fills a gap in film studies, the study of social and labour history and the development of popular culture in Britain and the United States.
