WHO Recommended Classification of Pesticides by Hazard and Guidelines to Classification 2009 International Program on Chemical Safety, World Health Organization, 2010 The WHO Recommended Classification of Pesticides by Hazard was approved by the 28th World Health Assembly in 1975 and has since gained wide acceptance When it was published in the WHO Chronicle 29 397 401 1975 an annex which was not part of the Classification illustrated its use by listing examples of classification of some pesticidal active ingredients and their formulations Later suggestions were made by Member States and pesticide registration authorities that further guidance should be given on the classification of individual pesticides Guidelines were first issued in 1978 and have since been revised and reissued every few years Up until the present revision the original guidelines approved by the World Health Assembly in 1975 have been followed without amendment In December 2002 the United Nations Committee of Experts on the Transport of Dangerous Goods and on the Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals UNCETDG GHS approved a document called The Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals with the intent to provide a globally harmonized system¹ GHS to address classification of chemicals labels and safety data sheets The GHS with subsequent revisions is now being widely used for the classification and labeling of chemicals worldwide For this revision of the Classification the WHO Hazard Classes have been aligned in an appropriate way with the GHS Acute Toxicity Hazard Categories for acute oral or dermal toxicity as the starting point for allocating pesticides to a WHO Hazard Class with adjustments for individual pesticides where required It is anticipated that few of the more toxic pesticides will change WHO Hazard Class as a result of this change As has always been the case the classification of some pesticides has been adjusted to take account of severe hazards to health other than acute toxicity as described in Part II The GHS Acute Toxicity Hazard Category for each pesticide is now presented alongside the existing information Page 1

ISO Catalogue International Organization for Standardization, 2006 The Organization of the Expert Society Andreas werr, Staffan Furusten, 2016-12-01 It is often claimed that we live in an expert society a society where more and more individuals take expert roles in increasingly narrow fields In contrast to more traditional experts most of these new experts lack generally accepted mechanisms for the certification and legitimation of their expertise This book focuses on these new as well as established experts and the efforts undertaken to secure and legitimate their expertise We view these efforts as organizing attempts and study them on four different levels the society the market the organization and the individual Based on empirical studies on these four levels of analysis The Organization of the Expert Society makes the argument that current organizing initiatives in the expert society are based in an objectifying view of expertise that risks concealing and downplaying key aspects of expertise Well intended organizing initiatives in the expert society thus run the risk of promoting ignorance rather than securing expertise Focusing on a current general and global phenomenon the rise and organization of an expert society The Organization of the Expert Society will be key reading for scholars academics and
