Inquiry plays a vital role in history as a discipline which constructs knowledge about the past and it is a vital organising principle in history education in many countries around the world. Inquiry is also much debated, however, and although it has prominent contemporary advocates around the world, it also has prominent critics in education studies. This volume in the International Review of History Education explores the role of historical inquiry in history curricula and in history classrooms and addresses a series of linked questions, including the following:

- What does historical inquiry mean in history classrooms?
- What forms does classroom based historical inquiry take, and to what extent is it understood in differing ways in different contexts?
- What do we know about the affordances and constraints associated with inquiry-based learning in history – what is the evidence of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of inquiry based historical learning?

We address these questions in the volume by presenting seventeen papers from eight different international contexts exploring historical inquiry that will be of interest both to history teachers, curriculum designers and history education researchers – seven papers from England, three from the US, two from Sweden and one each from Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Canada, and Singapore. The volume adds to our knowledge about teachers' thinking about inquiry and teachers' inquiry practices. It adds to our knowledge about the impact and value of inquiry in developing children's historical learning. It also explores the challenges that implementing inquiry can present for history teachers and provides support for implementation and examples of successful practice.

Webb,2004-08-02 Published in the year 1988 Qualitative Research In Education is a valuable contribution to the field of Education      Handbook of Historical Studies in Education Tanya Fitzgerald,2020-04-03 This book offers an in depth historiographical and comparative analysis of prominent theoretical and methodological debates in the field Across each of the sections contributors will draw on specific case studies to illustrate the origins debates and tensions in the field and overview new trends directions and developments Each section includes an introduction that provides an overview of the theme and the overall emphasis within the section In addition each section has a concluding chapter that offers a critical and comparative analysis of the national case studies presented As a Handbook the emphasis is on deeper consideration of key issues rather than a more superficial and broader sweep The book offers researchers postgraduate and higher degree students as well as those teaching in this field a definitive text that identifies and debates key historiographical and methodological issues The intent is to encourage comparative historiographical perspectives of the nominated issues that overview the main theoretical and methodological debates and to propose new directions for the field      Research in the College Context Frances K. Stage, Kathleen Manning, 2013-10-18 This handbook provides faculty students and researchers in the college environment with alternative methods and approaches for conducting research Readers will also find advice on research approaches using appropriate techniques and composing results      History of Education: Studies of education systems Roy Lowe, 2000      A Research Agenda for Leadership Learning and Development through Higher Education Susan R. Komives, Julie E. Owen, 2023-06-01 Adopting a multilevel perspective this innovative Research Agenda offers a comprehensive and critical overview of research on all aspects of contemporary leadership education Bringing together enlightening contributions from experienced scholars of leadership education along with a team of early career critical scholars it examines essential dimensions of leadership education processes and outcomes and interrogates the knowledge bases that shape these dimensions      Constructing the Subject Kurt Danziger, 1994-01-28 Constructing the Subject traces the history of psychological research methodology from the nineteenth century to the emergence of currently favored styles of research in the second quarter of the twentieth century Kurt Danziger considers methodology to be a kind of social practice rather than simply a matter of technique Therefore his historical analysis is primarily concerned with such topics as the development of the social structure of the research relationship between experimenters and their subjects as well as the role of the methodology in the relationship of investigators to each other in a wider social context The book begins with a historical discussion of introspection as a research practice and proceeds to an analysis of diverging styles of psychological investigation There is an extensive exploration of the role of quantification and statistics in the historical development of psychological research The influence of the social context on research practice is illustrated by a comparison of American and German developments especially in the field of personality research In this analysis psychology is treated less as a body of facts or theories than a particular set of social activities intended to produce something that counts as psychological knowledge under certain historical conditions This perspective means that the historical analysis has important consequences for a critical understanding of psychological methodology in general      NFB Kids Brian J. Low, 2006-01-01 Imagine a society that exists solely in cinema this book explores exactly that Using a half century of films from the archival collection of the National Film Board NFB Kids Portrayals of Children by the National Film Board of Canada 1939 1989 overcomes a long standing impasse about what films may be credibly said to document Here they document not reality but social images preserved over time the NFB Society an evolving cinematic representation of Canadian families schools and communities During the postwar era this society in cinema underwent a profound change in its child rearing and schooling philosophies embracing modern notions based upon principles espoused by the American mental hygiene movement Soon after the introduction of these psychological principles into NFB homes in 1946 and schools in 1956 there was a subtle transformation in adult child relations which progressively over time narrowed the gulf of power between generations and diminished the socializing roles of the NFB parents and teachers NFB Kids is a pioneering study within a new field of academic research cinema ethnography It adds to the growing body of knowledge about the function and the considerable impact of psychiatry and psychology in the post war social reconstruction of Canadian society and social history It will be of interest to academics over a broad spectrum of disciplines and to anyone thinking about the advancing arbitrary power of the cinematic state

Politics, Participation & Power Relations Richard C. Mitchell, Shannon A. Moore, 2012-10-01 Until recently youth have become the great absence regarding matters of citizenship justice and democracy Rarely are young people taken up with the important discourses of freedom and citizenship especially discourses that transcend national boundaries and academic disciplines Richard Mitchell and Shannon Moore have put together a brilliant book that not only fills this void but makes one of the most powerful cases I have read for addressing young people in terms that not only allow them to talk back be heard but also to enjoy those rights and freedoms that give democracy a real claim on its ideals and promises Every educator parent student and all those young people now making their voices heard all over the world should read this book Henry A Giroux This diverse collection will appeal to students in senior undergraduate and graduate courses looking into the new cosmopolitanism in social policy citizenship or cultural studies in child and youth studies and in post colonial approaches to education sociology and political science

The Century of the Child Theresa R. Richardson, 1989-01-01 In this book Richardson crosses disciplinary boundaries to examine mental hygiene issues of contemporary concern in both the United States and Canada The work juxtaposes a social history of the child in the twentieth century to shifts in private and public power as influenced by the mental hygiene movements in both countries The author shows how the historical record sheds light on current policy concerned with mentally emotionally and educationally handicapped children As a sociology of mental illness the book examines the relationship between mental hygiene as a form of knowledge and the social institutions that fostered the use of psychiatric perspectives concerning child and family life Significant topics covered in this regard include the history of early childhood and parent education the origins of child psychiatry in treating juvenile delinquency and the evolution of contemporary concepts of normal development

Understanding Curriculum William F. Pinar, 1995 Perhaps not since Ralph Tyler's 1949 Basic Principles of Curriculum and Instruction has a book communicated the field as completely as Understanding Curriculum From historical discourses to breaking developments in feminist poststructuralist and racial theory including chapters on political theory phenomenology aesthetics theology international developments and a lengthy chapter on institutional concerns the American curriculum field is here It will be an indispensable textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses alike

Power and Moral Education in China Wangbei Ye, 2014-04-15 Chinese moral education reform in the last three decades represents the most significant decentralization of decision making power since the foundation of People's Republic of China in 1949 On one hand it shows how de politicized China's moral education curriculum has become following the introduction of China's Open door policy and economic reforms and the resultant social transformations On the other hand it reveals persistent problems in moral education caused by political stresses and tight state control To explain these tensions Power and Moral Education in China analyzes the characteristics of power relationships in school moral education curriculum goal setting content and pedagogy selection and implementation The ultimate purpose is to identify not only what factors impact Chinese moral education curriculum decision making at the school level but also how and why Through a multiple case study conducted during 2008 in three schools in Shenzhen City and based on four major data collection instruments observation interview questionnaire and document review Wangbei Ye analyzes how power relationships have evolved in school moral education and how and why school power affects school moral education Contrary to the common belief that Chinese schools are passively impacted by external forces in moral education curriculum development this book suggests that school power is a semi emancipatory relationship that acts as a major force shaping moral education This means that although both the Chinese Communist Party and the state are positioned to control schools and moral education schools nonetheless have the power to either negotiate for more influence or partly emancipate themselves by collaborating with other external forces responding to grass root needs empowering school teachers and adjusting internal school management style This helps to explain the influence of Chinese schools in moral education and suggests a broader theory of power relationships in curriculum

Caring For Kids
Rodney R Cocking, Richard J. Altenbaugh, David E. Engel, Don T. Martin, 2013-07-23 The official school drop out figure in the US in recent years has been 25 per cent of the cohort Estimates from large cities are often double these rates and in some areas 60 per cent or worse This text focuses on this problem in US schools but from an unusual perspective It is a study gained from in depth interviews of 100 stop outs that is those who dropped out but then decided to return to school Four basic questions are posed by this text who drops out why did they drop out what caused them to return and what intervention policies can be formulated to prevent students dropping out in the first place The answers provided by this text for the last question are intended to make it of particular interest to school administrators

Education, Change, and the Policy Process
Harold Silver, 1990 The aim of this book is to track the historical elements of change in educational policy formation and implementation in relation to the specifics of responses to change the possibilities of change and attempts to achieve it Chapter 1 assess whether the future is in past historical change or is simply illuminated by it The notion of an explicit relationship between history and policy analysis is expounded in chapter 2 The answer for successful policy making in British higher education is looked for in chapter 3 Chapter 4 describes versions of accountability in public sectors of higher education Chapter 5 delineates the decline in the reputation of British higher education from the mid 1960s to the 1980s Chapter 6 places vocationalism in the context of further education describing its intentions and outcomes Chapter 7 contains a history of periods in British education from 1780 until now Chapter 8 examines the American zeal for change in education as a historical process beginning in the 1980s Chapter 9 describes the plight of socially disadvantaged children in school from 1920 80 Chapter 10 reinforces the general thrust of the book as a concern for using historical policy analysis as a point of entry into considerations for educational change Notes at the end of each chapter and an index are provided EJS
