Modern Art: A Very Short Introduction David Cottington, 2005-02-24 As public interest in modern art continues to grow there is a real need for a book that will engage general readers offering them not only information and ideas about modern art but also explaining its contemporary relevance and its history This book does just that

Museums, Equality and Social Justice Richard Sandell, Eithne Nightingale, 2013-05-20 The last two decades have seen concerns for equality diversity social justice and human rights move from the margins of museum thinking and practice to the core The arguments both moral and pragmatic for engaging diverse audiences creating the conditions for more equitable access to museum resources and opening up opportunities for participation now enjoy considerable consensus in many parts of the world A growing number of institutions are concerned to construct new narratives that represent a plurality of lived experiences histories and identities which aim to nurture support for more progressive ethically informed ways of seeing and to actively inform contemporary public debates on often contested rights related issues At the same time it would be misleading to suggest an even and uncontested transition from the museum as an organisation that has been widely understood to marginalise exclude and oppress to one which is wholly inclusive Moreover there are signs that momentum towards making museums more inclusive and equitable is slowing down or in some contexts reversing Museums Equality and Social Justice aims to reflect on and crucially to inform debates in museum research policy and practice at this critical time It brings together new research from academics and practitioners and insights from artists activists and commentators to explore the ways in which museums galleries and heritage organisations are engaging with the fast changing equalities terrain and the shifting politics of identity at global national and local levels and to investigate their potential to contribute to more equitable fair and just societies Art in the Asia-Pacific Larissa Hjorth,Natalie King,Mami Kataoka,2014-02-18 As social locative and mobile media render the intimate public and the public intimate this volume interrogates how this phenomenon impacts art practice and politics Contributors bring together the worlds of art and media culture to rethink their intersections in light of participatory social media By focusing upon the Asia Pacific region they seek to examine how regionalism and locality affect global circuits of culture The book also offers a set of theoretical frameworks and methodological paradigms for thinking about contemporary art practice more generally
