History Theory Text Historians And The Linguistic Turn:

History, Theory, Text Elizabeth A. Clark, 2009-07-01 A historian of early Christianity considers various theoretical critiques to examine the problems and opportunities posed by the ways in which history is written Clark argues for a renewal of the study of premodern Western history through engagement with the critical methods that have transformed other humanities disciplines in recent decades

From History to Theory Kerwin Lee Klein, 2011-05-19 From History to Theory describes major changes in the conceptual language of the humanities particularly in the discourse of history In seven beautifully written closely related essays Kerwin Lee Klein traces the development of academic vocabularies through the dynamically shifting cultural political and linguistic landscapes of the twentieth century He considers the rise and fall of philosophy of history and discusses past attempts to imbue historical discourse with scientific precision He explores the development of the meta narrative and the post Marxist view of history and shows how the present resurgence of old words such as memory in new contexts is providing a way to address marginalized peoples In analyzing linguistic changes in the North American academy From History to Theory innovatively ties semantic shifts in academic discourse to key trends in American society culture and politics

The Routledge Companion to Historical Theory Chiel van den Akker, 2021-11-15 This Companion provides a wide ranging and up to date overview of the conceptual issues that history as a discipline and mode of thought gives rise to The book offers both historical and systematic treatments of these issues as well as addressing their contemporary relevance Structured in three parts Modes and Schools of Historical Thought Epistemology and Metaphysics of History and Issues and Challenges in Historical Theory it offers the reader a wide scope and expert treatment of each topic in this vibrant field that can be read in any order An international team of experts both discuss the basis of their topic and present their own view offering the reader a cutting edge contribution while ensuring their chapters are of interest to both students and specialists in the field of historical theory and engaging with the very nature of historical thought the metaphysics of historical existence the politics of history writing and the intelligibility of the historical process The volume is an indispensable companion to the study of history and essential reading for anyone interested in the reflection on the nature of history and our historical existence

Theory, History, and the Study of Religion in Late Antiquity Maia Kotrosits, 2023-02-09 Theory is not a set of texts it is a style of approach It is to engage in the act of speculation gestures of abstraction that re imagine and dramatize the crises of living This Element is a both a primer for understanding some of the more predominant strands of critical theory in the study of religion in late antiquity and a history of speculative leaps in the field It is a history of dilemmas that the field has tried to work out again and again questions about subjectivity the body agency violence and power This Element additionally presses us on the ethical stakes of our uses of theory and asks how the field s interests in theory help us understand what s going on half spoken in the disciplinary unconscious

Flodoard of Rheims and the Writing of History in the Tenth Century Edward Roberts, 2019-09-05 A major re assessment of the Frankish historian Flodoard of Rheims one of the tenth century's most intriguing but neglected narrators The Historian's Toolbox Robert C. Williams, 2019-11-27 The Historian's Toolbox introduces students to the theory, craft and methods of history and equips them with a series of tools to research and understand the past. Written in an engaging and entertaining style and filled with fascinating examples, this best-selling how-to book opens up an exciting world behind historical research and writing. This fourth edition expands the repertory of tools and techniques available to students entering the workshop of history. These include materials on the Kennedy assassination, the litigation of Van Gogh's Night Café, local town histories, contemporary history, Twitter and the contemplation of the end of history, as well as the Sixth Extinction in a new epilogue. The book demonstrates the relevance and expanding possibilities of the study of history in our cacophonous information age of tweetstorms and fake news; it emphasises the increasing value of critical thinking, facts and evidence in the face of political lies and conspiracy theories. Material added to the fourth edition will resonate with a new generation of computer-literate readers in the face of climate change. The Historian's Toolbox continues to be a seminal text for supporting students throughout their study of history and an accessible teaching tool for instructors.

The Cappadocian Mothers Carla D. Sunberg, 2018-01-01 The Cappadocian Fathers had great influence on the church of the fourth century, having brought their passion for Christ and theological expertise to life in their ministry. Their work was not devoid of influence, including that of their immediate family members. Within their writings, we uncover the lives of seven women, the Cappadocian Mothers, who may have had more influence on the theology of the church than previously believed. As the Cappadocians wrestle with the Christianization of the concept of deification, we find the women in their lives becoming models for their theological understanding. The lives of the women become points of intersection in the kenosis-theosis parabola. Not only are the Cappadocian Mothers uncovered in the texts, but they become models of an optimistic theology of restoration for all of humanity without constraint of gender.

Plurihistoricity Zoltán Boldizsár Simon, 2025-07-25 This book situates historical scholarship within a plurihistoricity of contemporary historical culture, exploring conflicting conceptions of historical change, technological utopias of human enhancement, prospects of human extinction, societal responses to the Anthropocene, and in the imperative of bringing colonial patterns of historical injustice to justice. Contemporary societies increasingly reclaim history from the academic pursuit of historiography. On the one hand, societal engagement in history is growing palpably. History is literally everywhere: in the fallen statues of past political regimes, in trajectories of environmental degradation, and in technological prospects of space expansion. On the other hand, societal demand for history seems to diminish rather than strengthen the authority of professionalized historical studies. What do these societal historicities stand for? How do they create pasts that matter? What futures do they desire or attempt to avoid? How do they view the historical transitions into those futures? And what is the societal role of historical scholarship and scholarly conceptions of history in the plurihistoricity of contemporary historical culture? By addressing these questions, Simon's book is essential reading for everyone interested in the present and future of viewing the world historically Karl Barth and the Study of the Religious Enlightenment Michael Jimenez, 2018-03-01 Encountering the Task of History analyzes the intellectual history of the eighteenth century provided by Karl Barth most notably in his Protestant Theology in the Nineteenth Century Barth anticipates the recent scholarship on the religious roots impact and significance of the Enlightenment foreshadowing the later and now current challenges to the secularization paradigm This volume seeks to establish a new vantage point through which to understand not only the wider shape of Barth's work itself but also his standing and contribution to public intellectual scholarship Is the Tehran Bazaar Dead?
