Jade Mirror Women Poets Of China:

Jade Mirror Michael Farman, 2013 A delectable selection of poems by China's greatest women poets in translations of exquisite beauty A rare achievement Red Pine Jade Mirror's particular strength comes from the fact that all of its fine translators bring to the work different senses of where poetry is to be found in the originals as well present some of the finest poetic translation of the last twenty years Jerome Seaton This anthology spans twenty five hundred years of writing by women These are voices that were most often left out of the official anthologies and represent a hidden tradition that deserves a wider audience Women Poets of China Kenneth Rexroth, Ling Zhong, 1982 The poetry proves again that stereotypes mislead Chinese verse is supposedly cool and distant detached and dispassionate The opposite seems true poets are exalted or downcast drunk with wine or in the case of women frankly sensuous Nothing stands still in this poetry the wind blows the trees the lake water ripples and the ever present road runs in and out of the hills America Chinese Music in Print YANG YUANZHENG, 2023-01-11 Grounded in a desire to bring back to life rare items from the University of Hong Kong's Fung Ping Shan Library that are entwined within the world of music and to place them in a context of books and images in American British and other Asian collections Chinese Music in Print views the library as a repository not of information but of artifact and then uses these artifacts as a means for generating scholarly narrative It begins by assessing seminal texts in the Confucian canon set against the delicacy of the concubine and amanuensis Shen Cai's calligraphy and poetry Confucianism was itself a crucial aspect of courtly life and an exploration of its ritual is the book's second theme Vernacular genres of opera and song are represented in the third chapter while the Great Sage returns in the fourth for an exploration of the repertoire and richness of his favourite instrument the qin The final chapter ends the journey with discussion of the legacy of generations of Europeans who have visited China and their contribution to the understanding of a more vernacular instrument the erhu Like the 2021 exhibition called Music in Print that preceded it this exploration of Chinese music history introduces many rare books from the University of Hong Kong Libraries The essays combine professional expertise in musicology with an excellent grasp of traditional bibliography which allows the one to illuminate the other Bravo J S Edgren Princeton University I am most impressed by the critical reading of the author who excels in classical studies whose expertise in calligraphy seals editions and other related disciplines in Sinology is admirable His meticulous investigation into the complicated situation regarding the book printing business of dynastic China is professional and convincing Yu Siu wah chief editor of Anthology of Chinese Folk and Ethnic Instrumental Music The Hong Kong Volume Such a wide ranging but meticulously researched book that now contextualizes the dissemination and transmission of music into the discussion of manuscript and printed culture in China will clearly be an important addition to the holdings of libraries supporting Chinese studies and book studies broadly taken as well as those supporting the study of music Obviously it will be of direct importance for specialists in East Asian book studies and for musicologists of East Asian traditions Elizabeth

Markham University of Arkansas This beautifully illustrated and carefully edited book is the first English language monograph dedicated exclusively to the history of Chinese music as captured through the medium of print It introduces a host of new sources and methodologies to the English speaking public fruitfully complicates established narratives of music history and of print cultures in both East and West and offers a vital building block for the creation of a truly global music history Karl K gle University of Oxford Willow, Wine, Mirror, Moon ,2015-06-20 This collection of 106 poems by 44 female Tang era poets is the most comprehensive of its kind Poets are organized based on their status in Tang dynasty society women of the court women of the household courtesans and entertainers and women of religion While each poet s concerns vary with their social status common thematic threads include heartbreak and the mysteries of the natural world Thumbnail biographies of each poet and notes regarding individual poems complete this important collection Jeanne Larsen has published poetry three novels set in China and a book of poetry translation Brocade River Poems Selected Works of the Tang Dynasty Courtesan Xue Tao She teaches in the creative writing program at Hollins University in Roanoke Virginia

Willow, Wine, Mirror, Moon ,2005 Wine house singers empresses angst ridden wives and broken hearted nuns poems from China s golden age Images of Chinese Women Bettina Liebowitz Knapp,1992 Women's Poetry of Late Imperial China Xiaorong Li,2013-05-03 This study of poetry by women in late imperial China examines the metamorphosis of the trope of the inner chambers gui to which women were confined in traditional Chinese households and which in literature were both a real and an imaginary place Originally popularized in sixth century palace style poetry the inner chambers were used by male writers as a setting in which to celebrate female beauty to lament the loneliness of abandoned women and by extension to serve as a political allegory for the exile of loyal and upright male ministers spurned by the imperial court Female writers of lyric poetry ci soon adopted the theme beginning its transition from male fantasy to multidimensional representation of women and their place in society and eventually its manifestation in other poetic genres as well Emerging from the role of sexual objects within poetry late imperial women were agents of literary change in their expansion and complication of the boudoir theme While some take ownership and de eroticizing its imagery for their own purposes adding voices of children and older women and filling the inner chambers with purposeful activity such as conversation teaching religious ritual music sewing childcare and chess playing some simply want to escape from their confinement and protest gender restrictions imposed on women Women s Poetry of Late Imperial China traces this evolution across centuries providing and analyzing examples of poetic themes motifs and imagery associated with the inner chambers and demonstrating the complication and nuancing of the gui theme by increasingly aware and sophisticated women writers

Abandoned Women and Poetic Tradition Lawrence Lipking,1988-09-15 At the heart of poetic tradition is a figure of abandonment a woman forsaken and out of control She appears in writings ancient and modern in the East and the West in high art and popular culture produced by women and by men What accounts for her perennial fascination What is her function in poems and for writers Lawrence Lipking suggests many possibilities In this figure he finds a partial record of women s experience an instrument for the expression of religious love and yearning a voice for psychological fears and finally a model for the poet Abandoned women inspire new ways of reading poems and poetic tradition Women in Ancient China Bret Hinsch,2018-05-14 This pioneering book provides a comprehensive survey of ancient Chinese women s history covering thousands of years from the Neolithic era to China s unification in 221 BCE For each period Neolithic Shang Western Zhou and Eastern Zhou Bret Hinsch explores central aspects of female life marriage family life politics ritual and religious roles Deeply researched the book draws on a wide range of Chinese scholarship and primary sources including transmitted texts inscriptions and archaeological evidence The result is a comprehensive view of women s history from the beginnings of Chinese civilization up to the beginnings of the imperial era Clear and readable the book will be invaluable for both students and specialists in gender studies Asian and African Studies Slovenská akadémia vied. Kabinet orientalistiky,Ústav orientalistiky (Slovenská akadémia vied),2002 Contemporary Women Poets Pamela L. Shelton,1998 Biographical bibliographical critical entries on nearly 250 of the most prominent women poets currently writing and or publishing in the English language today Editor s note p xiii Vogue ,1927 The Invention of a Discourse Jeanne Hong Zhang,2004 Politics, Poetics, and Gender in Late Qing China Nanxiu Qian,2015-05-06 In 1898 Qing dynasty emperor Guangxu ordered a series of reforms to correct the political economic cultural and educational weaknesses exposed by China s defeat by Japan in the First Sino Japanese War The Hundred Day s Reform has received a great deal of attention from historians who have focused on the well known male historical actors but until now the Qing women reformers have received almost no consideration In this book historian Nanxiu Qian reveals the contributions of the active optimistic and self sufficient women reformers of the late Qing Dynasty Qian examines the late Qing reforms from the perspective of Xue Shaohui a leading woman writer who openly argued against male reformers approach that subordinated women s issues to larger national concerns instead prioritizing women s self improvement over national empowerment Drawing upon intellectual and spiritual resources from the freewheeling xianyuan worthy ladies model of the Wei Jin period of Chinese history 220 420 and the culture of women writers of late imperial China and open to Western ideas and knowledge Xue and the reform minded members of her social and intellectual networks went beyond the inherited Confucian pattern in their quest for an ideal womanhood and an ideal social order Demanding equal political and educational rights with men women reformers challenged leading male reformers purpose of achieving national wealth and power intending instead to unite women of all nations in an effort to create a just and harmonious new world Visualizing Beauty Aida Yuen Wong,2012-01-01 Visualizing Beauty examines the intersections between feminine ideals and changing socio political circumstances in China Japan and Korea during the first half of the twentieth century Eight essays present a broad range of visual products that informed concepts of beauty and womanhood including fashion interior design magazines newspaper illustrations and paintings of and by women Studying Traditional Woman and New Woman as historical categories this anthology contemplates the complex relations between feminine subjectivity and the promotion of modernity commerce and colonialism
