Japan's Contested War Memories Philip A. Seaton,2007-03-12 Japan s Contested War Memories is an important and significant book that explores the struggles within contemporary Japanese society to come to terms with Second World War history Focusing particularly on 1972 onwards the period starts with the normalization of relations with China and the return of Okinawa to Japan in 1972 and ends with the sixtieth anniversary commemorations Analyzing the variety of ways in which the Japanese people narrate contest and interpret the past the book is also a major critique of the way the subject has been treated in much of the English language Philip Seaton concludes that war history in Japan today is more divisive and widely argued over than in any of the other major Second World War combatant nations Providing a sharp contrast to the many orthodox statements about Japanese ignorance amnesia and denial about the war this is an engaging and illuminating study that will appeal to scholars and students of Japanese history politics cultural studies society and memory theory

Revisioning History Robert A. Rosenstone, 2020-03-31 In Revisioning History thirteen historians from around the world look at the historical film on its own terms not as it compares to written history but as a unique way of recounting the past How does film construct a historical world What are the rules codes and strategies by which it brings the past to life What does that historical construction mean to us In grappling with these questions each contributor looks at an example of New History cinema Different from Hollywood costume dramas or documentary films these films are serious efforts to come to grips with the past they have often grown out of nations engaged in an intense quest for historical connections such as India Cuba Japan and Germany The volume begins with an introduction by Robert Rosenstone Part I Contesting History comprises essays by Geoff Eley on the film Distant Voices Still Lives Nicholas B Dirks The Home and the World Thomas Kierstead and Deidre Lynch Eijanaika and Pierre Sorlin Night of the Shooting Stars Contributing to Part II Visioning History are Michael S Roth Hiroshima Mon Amour John Mraz Memories of Underdevelopment Min Soo Kang The Moderns and Clayton R Koppes Radio Bikini Part III Revisioning History contains essays by Denise J Youngblood Repentance Rudy Koshar Hitler A Film from Germany Rosenstone Walker Sumiko Higashi Walker and Mississippi Burning and Daniel Sipe From the Pole to the Equator

Memory, History, Nation Susannah Radstone, 2017-09-04 In the last decade a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity authority and universality memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial subjective and local At the same time memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent This interdisciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory The chapters in this volume offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained They explore the relation between individual and social memory between real and imaginary event and fantasy history and myth Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book Topics covered range from the Basque country to Cambodia from Hungary to South Africa from the Finnish Civil War to the cult Jim Jarmusch movie Dead Man from the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame to Australia

Part I Transforming Memory is concerned primarily with the social and personal transmission of memory across time and generations Part II Remembering Suffering Trauma and History brings the after effects of catastrophe to the fore Part III Patterning the National Past the relation between nation and memory is the central issue Part IV And Then Silence reflects on the complex and multiple meaning of silence and oblivion wherein amnesia is often used as a figure for the denial of shamefu

Local History and War Memories in Hokkaido Philip A. Seaton, 2015-07-24 Hokkaido the northernmost island of Japan barely features in most histories of the Second World War However the combination of distinctive war experiences a vibrant set of local historian groups and powerful media organizations disseminating local war history has generated an identifiable set of local collective memories Hokkaido's status as an early colonial acquisition also makes the island an important vantage point from which to reassess the course and nature of the Japanese Empire This book argues that Hokkaido's experiences of war and its militarized post war constitutes a local case study with a much greater national and international significance on both theoretical and empirical grounds than first impressions might suggest Using Japanese language sources presented for the first time in English and a number of detailed local history case studies it offers a fascinating and hitherto little known perspective on the Second World War It also combines a comprehensive theory of how war memories operate at the local level within a broad historical context that explains Hokkaido's pivotal role within Japanese imperial history Demonstrating that understanding local history and memories is essential for a nuanced understanding of national history and memories the book will be highly valuable to students and scholars of Japanese history Second World War history and Asian history

Historical resentments or memories of past suffering or fame are often used to justify political, economic and even territorial demands. Interstate disputes and historical conflicts should be understood as evidence of political and social tensions related to active serious differences in the assessment of the common past. The book explains the role of such conflicts in international relations and suggests ways of classifying them. It presents examples of the internationally relevant instrumentalisation of history from different regions of the world and outlines ways of overcoming them.
