Gladiators and Hurricanes 1940 1942 is a highly detailed account of the gallant band of RAF and Commonwealth pilots who flew in defence of Malta between June 1940 and April 1942 when help in the guise of Spitfires finally arrived Most of the Hurricanes which held this tiny outpost of the British Empire in the heart of Axis dominated territory had been flown from the decks of aircraft carriers or from bases in North Africa while a handful of fighter pilots arrived by Sunderland flying boats or other aircraft in transit from the UK via Gibraltar Many of these pilots were inexperienced and quickly paid the supreme price particularly when Messerschmitt Bf 109 pilots of the elite 7 JG26 arrived in Sicily in early 1941 and later in the year when JG53 made their presence felt Important personal diaries and journals have come to light and these have been widely quoted to provide the atmospheric background and thoughts and hopes of Hurricane pilots who defended Malta Not all diarists survived but their impressions provide a fitting tribute to their courage aspirations and fears Much of the early period of the air defence of Malta is enhanced by the personal experiences of Flt Lt then Sgt Plt James Pickering AFC who flew Hurricanes with 261 Squadron Dogfight David Owen, 2015-06-20 Innumerable books have been published on the two most famous fighter aircraft of all time the Supermarine Spitfire and the Messerschmitt Bf109 But books setting out to tell the story of both aircraft are very much rarer probably fewer than the fingers of one hand Yet their joint story is one which bears retelling since both were essential to the air campaigns of World War Two Incredibly the men who designed them lacked any experience of designing a modern fighter R J Mitchell had begun his career working on industrial steam locomotives Willy Messerschmitt had cut his aeronautical teeth on light and fragile gliders and sporting planes Yet both men not only managed to devise aircraft which could hold their own in a world where other designs went from state of the art to obsolete in a staggeringly short time but their fighters remained competitive over six years of front line combat Despite the different ways their creators approached their daunting tasks and the obstacles each faced in acceptance by the services for which they were designed they proved to be so closely matched that neither side gained a decisive advantage in a titanic struggle Had either of them not matched up to its opponent so well then the air war would have been a one sided catastrophe ending in a quick defeat for the Allies or the Axis powers and the course of twentieth century history would have been changed beyond recognition Best Kids' Jokes Ever!
