House In The Landscape Siting Your Home Naturally:

Breaking Ground Jeremiah Eck, 2010-05-15 Most homes built in the United States over the last fifty years were merely plopped down on a piece of land without any real integration of house and site. The result is a suburban sprawl of homes that are as uninspiring as they are environmentally unsustainable. House in the Landscape offers a viable alternative for landowners who want to build in a more thoughtful manner. Twenty-two houses by some of today's best known residential architects illustrate nine site types from all over the United States. Each site the issues it posed, the solutions the architects found, and the resulting house design are discussed and explained in detail, providing a wealth of siting information for the reader. In House: McInturff Architects Mark McInturff, The Images Publishing Group, 2013-07-31 0 0 1 108 620 The Images Publishing Group 5 1 727 14 0 Normal 0 false false false EN AU JA X NONE Style Definitions table MsoNormalTable mso style name Table Normal mso tstyle rowband size 0 mso tstyle colband size 0 mso style noshadow yes mso style priority 99 mso style parent mso padding left 0in 5 4pt 0in 5 4pt mso para margin 0in mso para margin bottom 0001pt mso pagination widow orphan font size 10 0pt font family Cambria Following on from In Detail 2001 and In Residence 2007 In House features more of the kinds of homes we all wish we could own. Showcasing the work of US architectural firm McInturff Architects with photography by Julia Heine, this volume highlights the innovation and craftsmanship that has won the firm commissions from all over the United States. The firm has an orientation towards contemporary design that involves considerable client interaction in order to ensure a highly crafted finished product. This richly illustrated volume features extraordinary residential designs, brilliant ideas, and inspirational spaces across the continent. In House is another fitting tribute to innovative architecture and thinking. "Architecture, Design and Craft in Toronto 1900-1940" Alla Myzelev, 2017-07-05 Toronto, the largest and one of the most multicultural cities in Canada, boasts an equally interesting and diverse architectural heritage. Architecture Design and Craft in Toronto 1900-1940 tells a story of the significant changes in domestic life in the first 40 years of the twentieth century. Adopting a multidisciplinary approach to studies of residential spaces, the author examines how questions of modernity and modern living influenced not only architectural designs but also interior furnishings, modes of transportation, and ways to spend leisure time. The book discusses several case studies, some of which are known both locally and internationally, for example Casa Loma, while others such as Guild of All Arts or Sherwood have been virtually unstudied by historians of visual culture. The overall goal of the book is to put Toronto on the map of scholars of urban design and architecture and to uncover previously unknown histories of design, craft, and domesticity in Toronto. This study will be of interest not only to the academic community, namely architects, designers, craftspeople, and scholars of these disciplines, along with social historians, but also the general public interested in local history and/or visual culture. Natural Houses Arthur Andersson, Chris Wise, 2010-04-07 For Arthur Andersson and Chris Wise the fundamental elements that give buildings meaning are found in nature Imbuing day to day activities with poetry and awe their designs address both pragmatic needs and the psychological yearning for refuge and contemplation centering and escape joy and comfort Their work is best experienced through the senses Tactility expressed through an eloquence of craft the use of textured materials and the logical design of structural systems gives their buildings a rightness within the landscape In their hands daylight becomes a building material Small wall apertures three sided dormers clerestories and other details grab bend and thread sunlight from one end of their houses to the other Full of light and atmosphere the houses are the physical embodiment of the great Charles Moore s influential tenet that architecture is about enhancing a sense of place Natural Houses presents seven of the Austin Texas based firm s exquisitely crafted projects Precise and cool with forms often derived from the American vernacular of barns and cottages these are painstakingly crafted houses made from regionally appropriate and aesthetically timeless materials Natural Houses presents a range of sites and residences from a small cabin in the woods to a multibuilding camp Sited on a cliff the House Above Lake Austin uses terraces to descend its steeply hilly site The building s simple materials celebrate the site and climate not by drawing attention to themselves but by blending in The stone foundation is similarly tied to the natural stone of the mountain Smooth plaster walls above the stone foundation appear to have been chiseled from the rock itself In a deceptively simple boathouse the walls fold down to become impromptu diving platforms Exceptional photography captures the light and atmosphere of each project setting and illustrates how the firm rigorously expresses the design concept through detailing and construction An introduction by Rick Sundberg of Olson Sundberg Kundig Allen Architects and essays by Jen Renzi and Frederick Steiner chart the firm's evolution and influences
