Household Gold:

Stalin's Quest for Gold Elena Osokina, 2021-09-15 Stalin's Quest for Gold tells the story of Torgsin a chain of retail shops established in 1930 with the aim of raising the hard currency needed to finance the USSR's ambitious industrialization program. At a time of desperate scarcity Torgsin had access to the country's best foodstuffs and goods. Initially only foreigners were allowed to shop in Torgsin but the acute demand for hard currency revenues forced Stalin to open Torgsin to Soviet citizens who could exchange tsarist gold coins and objects made of precious metals and gemstones as well as foreign monies for foods and goods in its shops. Through her analysis of the large scale state run entrepreneurship represented by Torgsin Elena Osokina highlights the complexity and contradictions of Stalinism. Driven by the state's hunger for gold and the people's starvation Torgsin rejected Marxist postulates of the socialist political economy the notorious class approach and the state hard currency monopoly. In its pursuit for gold Torgsin advertised in the capitalist West encouraging foreigners to purchase goods for their relatives in the USSR and its seaport shops and restaurants operated semilegally as brothels inducing foreign sailors to spend hard currency for Soviet industrialization. Examining Torgsin from multiple perspectives economic expediency state and police surveillance consumerism even interior design and personnel Stalin's Quest for Gold radically transforms the stereotypical view of the Soviet economy and enriches our understanding of everyday life in Stalin's Russia.

The Power of Gold Sundaravalli Narayanaswami, 2025-06-30 The Indian gold market is a multifaceted and dynamic sector intricately linked to the nation's culture economy and demographics. Structural transformations including escalating GDP an expanding middle class and a youthful economically engaged populace propel the growing demand for gold. Innovations such as digital gold and the growth of organized retail are transforming consumer behaviour while regulatory enhancements are tackling issues in refining recycling and trading activities. Nonetheless challenges such as smuggling infrastructural deficiencies and fragmented industry dynamics continue to infest the industry as the stakes are quite high. Gold has seen a massive resurgence not only in India but around the world. This book covers the most essential facets of the Indian gold industry. Through targeted reforms and improved market structures India has the potential to harmonize its ancient veneration for gold with contemporary socio-economic ambitions.

Domestic Violence and the Law in Colonial and Postcolonial Africa Emily S. Burrill, Richard L. Roberts, Elizabeth Thornberry, 2010-08-15 Domestic Violence and the Law in Colonial and Postcolonial Africa reveals the ways in which domestic space and domestic relationships take on different meanings in African contexts that extend the boundaries of family obligation kinship and dependency. The term domestic violence encompasses kin based violence marriage based violence gender based violence as well as violence between patrons and clients who shared the same domestic space. As a lived experience and as a social and historical unit of analysis domestic violence in colonial and postcolonial Africa is complex. Using evidence drawn from Sub-Saharan Africa the chapters explore the range of domestic violence in Africa's colonial past and its present including taxation and the insertion of the household into the broader structure of colonial domination African histories of domestic violence demand that scholars and activists refine the terms and analyses and pay attention to the historical legacies of contemporary problems This collection brings into conversation historical anthropological legal and activist perspectives on domestic violence in Africa and fosters a deeper understanding of the problem of domestic violence the limits of international human rights conventions and local and regional efforts to address the issue continuous history China is one of the world's oldest civilizations and is regarded as one of the cradles of civilization. The Zhou dynasty (1046-256 BC) supplanted the Shang and introduced the concept of the Mandate of Heaven to justify their rule. The central Zhou government began to weaken due to external and internal pressures in the 8th century BC and the country eventually splintered into smaller states during the Spring and Autumn period. These states became independent and warred with one another in the following Warring States period. Much of traditional Chinese culture, literature, and philosophy first developed during those troubled times. In 221 BC, Qin Shi Huang conquered the various warring states and created for himself the title of Huangdi or emperor of the Qin, marking the beginning of imperial China. However, the oppressive government fell soon after his death and was supplanted by the longer-lived Han dynasty (206 BC-220 AD). Successive dynasties developed bureaucratic systems that enabled the emperor to control vast territories directly. In the 21 centuries from 206 BC until AD 1912, routine administrative tasks were handled by a special elite of scholar-officials. Young men well-versed in calligraphy, history, literature, and philosophy were carefully selected through difficult government examinations. China's last dynasty was the Qing (1644-1912), which was replaced by the Republic of China in 1912 and in the mainland by the People's Republic of China in 1949. Chinese history has alternated between periods of political unity and peace and periods of war and failed statehood, the most recent being the Chinese Civil War (1927-1949). China was occasionally dominated by steppe peoples, most of whom were eventually assimilated into the Han Chinese culture and population. Between eras of multiple kingdoms and warlordism, Chinese dynasties have ruled parts or all of China. In some eras, control stretched as far as Xinjiang and Tibet. As at present, traditional culture and influences from other parts of Asia and the Western world, carried by waves of immigration, cultural assimilation, expansion, and foreign contact, form the basis of the modern culture of China.

This volume challenges patrimonialism as a political model for the ancient Near East by engaging with letters and legal texts concerning royal women at Late Bronze Age Ugarit, demonstrating women's pivotal roles in the exercise of power and then bringing these insights to bear on the Hebrew Bible. The book offers a new vision of how women figure in ancient political systems. Through an analysis of royal letters, legal verdicts, and regional records, it examines overt claims and implicit anxieties concerning the pivotal roles of royal women. Three case studies from Late Bronze Age Ugarit reveal that a single woman, functioning in a range of modalities—mother, daughter, sister, and wife—brokered a network of relationships among a range of men. Patrimonialism depended on the political polyvalence of women. Texts from Ugarit attest to this reality and the biblical royal women of the House of David amplify its significance This analysis of women s activity within and among royal households is productive not only for the study of the Late Bronze Age Levant but also as a model for analogous inquiries into ancient societies and other systems in which data are thin and patrimonialism widely in evidence Royal Women at Ugarit is suitable for students and scholars working on women and gender in the ancient Near East as well as those interested in the political realm of the Late Bronze Age and the intersections of biblical literature with other ancient texts Code of Federal Regulations ,1992 Special edition of the Federal Register containing a codification of documents of general applicability and future effect with ancillaries The Punjab Borderland Ilyas Chattha,2022-06-16 The Punjab Borderland offers a fascinating insight into how the new international boundary between India and Pakistan was made subverted and transformed Dispelling the established historiographical narratives of an increasingly militarised border that presents as the epitome of animosity and a classic example of inter state tension this book offers a corrective to these accounts by bringing out narratives of border crossings and social relations built on mutual benefit and trust It conceptualises the making of the vast contraband as an analytical tool not merely as borderland societies modes for evading the state imposition of a partitioned geography on their local lifeworld but as a catalyst for enabling social mobility and political empowerment for the population involved and a thriving market for consumption in the urban centres It reveals a bottom up history of the Punjab border and the invention of the borderland society narrating a story with local meanings and transnational dimensions
