The Literary News Frederick Leypoldt,1904 Afterlives of Letters Satoru Hashimoto,2023-10-24 Honorable Mention 2024 Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for East Asian Studies Modern Language Association When East Asia opened itself to the world in the nineteenth century Chinese Japanese and Korean intellectuals had shared notions of literature because of the centuries long cultural exchanges in the region As modernization profoundly destabilized cultural norms they ventured to create new literature for the new era Satoru Hashimoto offers a novel way of understanding the origins of modern literature in a transregional context drawing on Chinese Japanese and Korean language texts in both classical and vernacular forms He argues that modern literature came into being in East Asia through writerly attempts at reconstructing the present s historical relationship to the past across the cultural transformations caused by modernization Hashimoto examines writers anachronistic engagement with past cultures deemed obsolete or antithetical to new systems of values showing that this transnational process was integral to the emergence of modern literature A groundbreaking cross cultural excavation of the origins of modern literature in East Asia featuring remarkable linguistic scope Afterlives of Letters bridges Asian studies and comparative literature and delivers a remapping of world literature

Visions of the East Matthew Bernstein,Gaylyn Studlar,1997 Essays on orientalism in American and European cinema Colorado Butterflies Frederick Martin Brown,1957 East Asia Hugh Dyson Walker,2012-11-20 Histories of East Asia traditionally emphasize China and Japan and neglect Korea and Vietnam Essentially 20th century East Asia is re written into the past as though China and Japan was always the core of East Asian development This is not at all how East Asia developed Chinese prehistoric cultures became historic in the 18th century B C Japan was not part of East Asia for over 2300 more years By studying periods of Chinese unity and disunity and their effects on Chinas neighbors Korea and Vietnam a distinct culture zone East Asia gradually emerged and slowly included Japan The main elements of East Asiacultural social political philosophical religious and linguistic were derived from China but the others were not minor replicas of China Each was unique its people ethnically distinct from China and each other its native language and linguistic blend with Chinese also unique Korea and Vietnam resisted Chinese colonization but adopted and adapted advance Chinese elements to their own needs Emerging later Japan underwent wholesale adoption of Tang Chinas advances replicated in the 19th century when Japan was the first East Asian country to modernize Spanning some thirty eight centuries from the 18th century B C to 2012 A D this diversity with common elements derived from China is a major theme of this work It is often overlooked by those who prefer general views based on surface impressions to more complex realities The former often lead to mistakes the latter become the basis for more sound understanding After all these four countries and people share the eastern end of the Eurasian continent yet each countrys geographic situation is also unique As the twenty first century continues to unfold this new approach to East Asia should help to produce clearer and more accurate understanding of this important world region
