Reading Testimony, Witnessing Trauma Eden Wales, 2020-02-28 Winner of the 2020 Eudora Welty Prize Theorists emphasize the necessity of writing about or witnessing trauma in order to overcome it To this critical conversation Reading Testimony Witnessing Trauma Confronting Race Gender and Violence in American Literature treats reader response to traumatic and testimonial literature written by and about African American women and adds insight into the engagement of testimonial literature Eden

Wales articulates a theory of reading or dual witnessing that explores how narrators and readers can witness trauma together. She places these original theories of traumatic reception in conversation with the African American literary tradition to speak to the histories, cultures, and traumas of African Americans, particularly the repercussions of slavery as witnessed in African American literature. The volume also considers intersections of race and gender and how narrators and readers can cross such constructs to witness collectively. Reading Testimony: Witnessing Trauma s innovative examinations of raced, gendered intersections open and speak with those works that promote dual witnessing through the fraught literary histories of race and gender relations in America. To explicate how dual witnessing converses with American literature, race theory, and gender criticism, the book analyzes emancipatory narratives by Sojourner Truth, Harriet Jacobs, and Elizabeth Keckley, and novels by William Faulkner, Zora Neale Hurston, Margaret Walker, Toni Morrison, and Jesmyn Ward.

Can I Speak to Someone in Charge? Emily Clarkson, 2017-07-13. JUST IMAGINE IF WE THE NORMAL GIRLS STOOD UNITED AS AN ENORMOUS HYSTERICAL AND PROUD ARMY WE WOULD BE UNSTOPPABLE. A fresh, modern take on feminism and life from one of the most compelling voices of her generation. JANE MOORE. A stirring call to action. KATIE SPICER. Written with gumption, fearlessness, and sharp wit. Can I Speak to Someone in Charge is a window into the ridiculous ideologies and the absurd expectations that shape the lives of modern women. In a series of open letters, Emily Clarkson addresses all manner of subjects, from body hair to Facebook friends, to the perils of wearing Lycra. She unpicks the validity of notions such as the thigh gap, questions the quotidian scrutiny by the media, ponders the etymology of the term plus size, and considers our unshakeable obsession with dieting while wondering why some of us are still crying in changing rooms. Full of vital life lessons, outrageous confessions, and poignant reflections, Can I Speak to Someone in Charge is a love letter to women everywhere, reminding us that being strong, being kind, and being yourself is really what normal should be. Being asked to write a book was probably the best thing that s happened to me up until that point. I was gravely concerned that my mum was the only person reading my blog. I hope this book will speak to a range of women and men. Actually, I hope it will make people laugh, but more importantly, I hope it will open people s eyes to the fact that we ve got a lot to do if we want to make growing up in a good and kind world a possibility for our daughters. Emily Clarkson
