Housing and Planning References ,1983 Cultural Ideals of Home Deborah Chambers,2020-03-18 Spanning the nineteenth to twenty first centuries this book investigates how home is imagined staged and experienced in western culture Questions about meanings of home and domestic culture are triggered by dramatic changes in values and ideals about the dwellings we live in and the dwellings we desire or dread Deborah Chambers explores how home is idealised as a middle class haven managed as an investment and signified as a status symbol and expression of personal identity She addresses a range of public state commercial popular and expert discourses about home the heritage industry design exhibitions television social media home mobilities and migration smart technologies and ecological sustainability Drawing on cross disciplinary research including cultural history and cultural geography the book offers a distinctive media and cultural studies approach supported by original historically informed case studies on interior and domestic design exhibitions of model homes TV home interiors media home imaginaries multiscreen homes corporate visions of homes of tomorrow and digital smart homes A comprehensive and engaging study this book is ideal for students and researchers of cultural studies cultural history media and communication studies as well as sociology gender studies cultural geography and design studies

1990 Census of Population and Housing ,1992 Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1986 Current Housing Reports ,1980 Home Power ,2003 Building Futures Jane Powell,Jennifer Monahan,Chris Foulds,2015-11-24 A reduction in the energy demand of buildings can make a major contribution to achieving national and international carbon reduction goals in addition to addressing the interlinked issues of sustainable development fuel poverty and fuel security Despite improvements in thermal efficiency the energy demand of buildings stubbornly remains unchanged or is only declining slowly due to the challenges posed by growing populations the expectations of larger more comfortable and better equipped living spaces and an expanding commercial sector Building Futures offers an interdisciplinary approach to explore this lack of progress combining technical and social insights into the challenges of designing constructing and operating new low energy buildings

as well as improving the existing inefficient building stock The twin roles of energy efficiency which is predominantly concerned with technological solutions and energy conservation which involves changing peoples behaviour are both explored The book includes a broad geographical range and scale of case studies from the UK Europe and further afield including Passivhaus in Germany and the UK Dongtan Eco City in China and retrofit houses in Denmark This book is a valuable resource for students and academics of environmental science and energy based subjects as well as construction and building management professionals Mechanical Engineer's Reference Book Edward H. Smith,2013-09-24 Mechanical Engineer s Reference Book 12th Edition is a 19 chapter text that covers the basic principles of mechanical engineering The first chapters discuss the principles of mechanical engineering electrical and electronics microprocessors instrumentation and control The succeeding chapters deal with the applications of computers and computer integrated engineering systems the design standards and materials properties and selection Considerable chapters are devoted to other basic knowledge in mechanical engineering including solid mechanics tribology power units and transmission fuels and combustion and alternative energy sources The remaining chapters explore other engineering fields related to mechanical engineering including nuclear offshore and plant engineering These chapters also cover the topics of manufacturing methods engineering mathematics health and safety and units of measurements This book will be of great value to mechanical engineers

Consumer Sourcebook Gale Group,2000 Identifies and describes some 15 000 programs and services available to the general public at little or no cost These services are provided by federal state county and local governments and their agencies as well as by organizations and associations Annual Housing Survey ,1973 Domestic Environmental Labour Carol Farbotko,2018-01-03 This book addresses the question of domestic environmental labour from an ecofeminist perspective A work of cultural geography it explores the proposition that the practice and politics of domestic labour being undertaken in the name of the environment needs to be better recognized understood and accounted for as a phenomenon shaped by and shaping of gender class and spatial relations The book argues that a significant yet neglected phenomenon worthy of research attention is the upsurge in voluntary and yet mostly unrecognized domestic environmental labour in high consuming households in late modernity with the burden often falling on women seeking to green their lives and homes in aid of a sustainable planet Further because domestic environmental labour is undervalued in governance and the formal economy much like other types of domestic labour householders have become an unrecognized and unaccounted for supply of labour for the greening of capitalism Situated within broad global debates on links between ecological and social change the book has relevance in the many jurisdictions around the world in which households are positioned as sites of environmental protection through green consumption The volume engages existing interest in household environmental behaviour and practice advancing understanding of these topics in new ways Synergist ,1978
