burgeoning elderly population and the corresponding increase in geriatric psychopathology the needs of mental health services are exceeding by far the supply of appropriate providers In an effort to meet this need psychiatry medicine neurology pharmacology psychology nursing and social work have all made the provision of training in geriatrics and gerontology a high priority but I fear we are losing the race For example multidisciplinary teams that assess diagnose and treat mental health disorders in elderly patients are incomplete without clinical psychologists and neuropsychologists and yet there is barely a handful of clinical psychologists trained in dealing with geriatric patients We can count on our fingers the additional ones graduated each year In hospitals clinics and private practices across the country otherwise skilled psychologists are unprepared to respond to the special mental health needs of the elderly A few CME programs are helping to address this need but they are clearly not enough
