Remeseira makes a compelling case for New York as a paradigm of the country's Latinoization. His anthology mixes primary sources with scholarly and journalistic essays on history, demography, racial and ethnic studies, music, art, history, literature, linguistics, and religion, and the authors range from historical figures such as José Martí, Bernardo Vega, or Whitman himself to contemporary writers such as Paul Berman, Ed Morales, Virginia Sánchez Korrol, Roberto Suro, and Ana Celia Zentella. This unique volume treats the reader to both the New York and the American experience as reflected and transformed by its Hispanic and Latino components. Hispanic Engineer & IT, 1990. Hispanic Education in the United States. Eugene E. García, 2001. García's educational model is such that wings are valued only upon gaining roots; that is, building upon one's Hispanic experience and language. Citing the more assimilationist theories of Richard Rodriguez and Linda Chavez as simplistic, García aims to add a little complexity to a theory of Hispanic education in the US to favor unity along with diversity, not at diversity's expense.
