Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Crime, Terrorism, and Homeland Security, 2008 The Prisoner of Zenda (Collins Classics) Anthony Hope, 2013-01-03 HarperCollins is proud to present its incredible range of best loved essential classics The Prisoner of Zenda Anthony Hope, 2020-02-20 If love were the only thing I would follow you in rags if need be But is love the only thing Anthony Hope s The Prisoner of Zenda is a swashbuckling adventure set in Ruritania a mythical pocket kingdom Englishman

Rudolf Rassendyll closely resembles the King of Ruritania and to foil a coup by his rival to the throne he is persuaded to impersonate him for a day. However, Rassendyll's role becomes more complicated when the real king is kidnapped and he falls for the lovely Princess Flavia. Although the story is set in the near past, Ruritania is a semi-feudal land in which a strong sword arm can carry the day and Rassendyll and his allies fight to rescue the king. But if he succeeds, our hero and Flavia will have to choose between love and honour. As Nicholas Daly's introduction outlines, this thrilling tale inspired not only stage and screen adaptations but also place names and even a popular board game. A whole new subgenre of Ruritanian romances followed, though no imitation managed to capture the charm, exuberance, and sheer storytelling power of Hope's classic tale.

The World's Great Classics: History of Europe during the Middle Ages, by H. Hallam. Modern history, by J. Michelet. Timothy Dwight, Julian Hawthorne, 1899. Library Committee. Timothy Dwight, Richard Henry Stoddard, Arthur Richmond Marsh, A. B. and others. Illustrated with nearly two hundred photogravures, etchings, colored plates, and full-page portraits of great authors. Clarence Cook, art editor. Handbook on Prisons, Yvonne Jewkes, Ben Crewe, Jamie Bennett, 2016-02-23. The second edition of the Handbook on Prisons provides a completely revised and updated collection of essays on a wide range of topics concerning prisons and imprisonment. Bringing together three of the leading prison scholars in the UK as editors, this new volume builds on the success of the first edition and reveals the range and depth of prison scholarship around the world. The Handbook contains chapters written not only by those who have established and developed prison research but also features contributions from ex-prisoners, prison governors, and ex-governors, prison inspectors, and others who have worked with prisoners in a wide range of professional capacities. This second edition includes several completely new chapters on topics as diverse as prison design, technology in prisons, the high security estate, therapeutic communities, prisons and desistance, supermax, and solitary confinement, plus a brand new section on international perspectives. The Handbook aims to convey the reality of imprisonment and to reflect the main issues and debates surrounding prisons and prisoners while also providing novel ways of thinking about familiar penal problems and enhancing our theoretical understanding of imprisonment. The Handbook on Prisons, Second edition, is a key text for students taking courses in prisons, penology, criminal justice, criminology, and related subjects and is also an essential reference for academics and practitioners working in the prison service or in related agencies who need up-to-date knowledge of thinking on prisons and imprisonment. Prison Masculinities /edited by Don Sabo, Terry A. Kupers, and Willie London. Donald F. Sabo, Terry Allen Kupers, Willie James London, 2001. This book explores the frightening ways our prisons mirror the worst aspects of society-wide gender relations. It is part of the growing research on men and masculinities. The collection is unusual in that it combines contributions from activists, academics, and prisoners. The opening section, which features an essay by Angela Davis, focuses on the historical roots of the prison system, cultural practices surrounding gender and punishment, and the current expansion of corrections into the prison industrial complex. The next section examines the dominant or subservient roles that men play in prison and the connections between this hierarchy and male violence Another section looks at the spectrum of intimate relationships behind bars from rape to friendship and another at physical and mental health The last section is about efforts to reform prisons and prison masculinities including support groups for men It features an essay about prospects for post release success in the community written by a man who after doing time in Soledad and San Quentin went on to get a doctorate in counseling The contributions from prisoners include an essay on enforced celibacy by Mumia Abu Jamal as well as fiction and poetry on prison health policy violence and intimacy The creative contributions were selected from the more than 200 submissions received from prisoners Author note Don Sabo Professor of Social Sciences at D Youville College in Buffalo is author or editor of five books most recently with David Gordon Men s Health and Illness Gender Power and the Body and with Michael Messner Sex Violence and Power in Sports Rethinking Masculinity Sabo has appeared on The Today Show Oprah and Donahue Terry A Kupers M D a psychiatrist teaches at the Wright Institute in Berkeley He is the author of four books editor of a fifth His latest books are Prison Madness The Mental Health Crisis Behind Bars and What We Must Do About It and Revisioning Men s Lives Gender Intimacy and Power Kupers has served as an expert witness in more than a dozen cases on conditions of confinement and mental health services Willie London a published poet is General Editor of the prison publication Elite Expressions He is currently an inmate at Eastern Corrections For nine years he was a prisoner at Attica

Classics in Environmental Criminology Martin A. Andresen, Paul J. Brantingham, J. Bryan Kinney, 2010-05-25. A careful analysis of environmental factors is key to understanding the causes of crime, to solving crimes, and eventually helping to predict and prevent them. Classics in Environmental Criminology is a comprehensive collection of seminal pieces from legendary contributors who focus on the role that the immediate environment plays in the occurrence of a crime. It defines the field. Divided into three parts, the book begins by highlighting the development of environmental criminology as a discipline through its origins in spatial criminology. It examines social disorganization theory, which explains criminal activity with reference to the characteristics of the community that delinquents live in. It then discusses the ecology of crime with reference to macroenvironments and microenvironments. The next section introduces concepts such as routine activity theory, the geometric theory of crime, the rational choice theory of offending, and crime pattern theory. It offers perspectives on prevention. The last part focuses on the concept of crime prevention, examines the idea of altering the environment in order to prevent crime, and discusses situational crime factors and efforts to reduce the opportunities for crimes to be committed. It considers the impact of routine activities on crime prevention initiatives and advocates a flexible approach to crime prevention based on the dynamic nature of our environment. The book concludes with a chapter outlining how environmental criminology has evolved in recent years and provides a future outlook on where it may be headed. Invaluable as a textbook and as a professional reference, this volume is a comprehensive survey of a critical field in contemporary criminological theory. Offering insight assembled by top academic figures within the criminology community, this work is destined to provoke further inquiry and research.
