Vale Smith,2017-09-17 Excerpt from History of Newburyport From the Earliest Settlement of the Country to the Present Time With a Biographical Appendix To write the History of a Town or City resembles much the work of a Biographer for though composed of numbers these separate units in their corporate capacity form but a single figure they have a physical structure which is their own wants unfelt by others and means of enjoyment within themselves in which the stranger has no part except by courtesy or invitation To write such a history then while the subject is still alive and vigorous is both a perilous and delicate undertaking It is like selecting a single individual from his family connections drawing his portrait as he looks to you and then passing it around among his own blood relations to be criticised by them and recognized by himself if that is possible About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      A Guide to
