History Of Europa Clock:

A General History of Horology Anthony Turner, James Nye, Jonathan Betts, 2022-07-28 A General History of Horology describes instruments used for the finding and measurement of time from Antiquity to the 21st century In geographical scope it ranges from East Asia to the Americas The instruments described are set in their technical and social contexts and there is also discussion of the literature the historiography and the collecting of the subject The book features the use of case studies to represent larger topics that cannot be completely covered in a single book The international body of authors have endeavoured to offer a fully world wide survey accessible to students historians collectors and the general reader based on a firm understanding of the technical basis of the subject At the same time as the work offers a synthesis of current knowledge of the subject it also incorporates the results of some fundamental new and original research European clocks and watches in the Near East Kurz, 2024-08-05

The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern European History, 1350-1750 Hamish Scott, 2015-07-23 This Handbook re examines the concept of early modern history in a European and global context The term early modern has been familiar especially in Anglophone scholarship for four decades and is securely established in teaching research and scholarly publishing More recently however the unity implied in the notion has fragmented while the usefulness and even the validity of the term and the historical periodisation which it incorporates have been questioned The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern European History 1350 1750 provides an account of the development of the subject during the past half century but primarily offers an integrated and comprehensive survey of present knowledge together with some suggestions as to how the field is developing It aims both to interrogate the notion of early modernity itself and to survey early modern Europe as an established field of study The overriding aim will be to establish that early modern is not simply a chronological label but possesses a substantive integrity Volume I examines Peoples and Place assessing structural factors such as climate printing and the revolution in information social and economic developments and religion including chapters on Orthodoxy Judaism and Islam History of European Drama and Theatre Erika Fischer-Lichte, 2002-09-11

Museum of Art Clare Vincent, Jan Hendrik Leopold, Elizabeth Sullivan, 2015-11-25 Among the world s greatest technological and imaginative achievements is the invention and development of the timepiece Examining for the first time The Metropolitan Museum of Art's unparalleled collection of European clocks and watches created from the late Renaissance through the nineteenth century this fascinating book enriches our understanding of the origins and evolution of these ingenious works It showcases fifty four clocks watches and other timekeeping devices each represented with an in depth description and new photography of the exterior and the inner mechanisms Among these masterpieces is an ornate sixteenth century celestial timepiece that accurately predicts the trajectory of the sun moon and stars an eighteenth century longcase clock by David Roentgen that shows the time in the ten most important cities of the day and a nineteenth century watch featuring a penetrating portrait of Czar Nicholas I of Russia Created by the best craftsmen in Austria England Flanders France Germany Italy the Netherlands and Switzerland these magnificent timepieces have been selected for their remarkable beauty and design as well as their sophisticated mechanics Built upon decades of expert research this publication is a long overdue survey of these stunning visual and technological marvels The New York Times Current History of the European War, 1915 "Eastern Magnificence & European Ingenuity" Catherine Pagani, 2001 An exploration of the important role played by elaborate clockwork in relations between China and Europe from the late sixteenth to the late eighteenth centuries

European Clocks in the J. Paul Getty Museum Gillian Wilson, David Harris Cohen, Jean Nérée Ronfort, Jean-Dominique Augarde, Peter Friess, 2013-08-15 Among the finest examples of European craftsmanship are the clocks produced for the luxury trade in the eighteenth century The J Paul Getty Museum is fortunate to have in its decorative arts collection twenty clocks dating from around 1680 to 1798 eighteen produced in France and two in Germany They demonstrate the extraordinary workmanship that went into both the design and execution of the cases and the intricate movements by which the clocks operated In this handsome volume each clock is pictured and discussed in detail and each movement diagrammed and described In addition biographies of the clockmakers and enamelers are included as are indexes of the names of the makers previous owners and locations European Historical Collections John Warner Barber, 1855

Time in World History Peter Stearns, 2019-12-05 In this book Peter Stearns presents the fascinating concept of time through a global historical lens Covering both calendrical time and clock time the volume shows how significant changes in conceptions of time are in world history as they translate many key historical developments from religion to industrialization into daily experience The book explores why and how early societies became interested in measuring time as well as explaining the causes and ongoing consequences of the modern sense of time The author compares different societies and cultures in their attitudes and approaches to time and describes the role of globalization in its development The volume offers many examples and illustrations to aid readers in their understanding of the advantages and disadvantages of various constructions of time both in the past and among different groups of people today Time in World History will be of interest to students of world history and sociology introducing readers to historical forces that continue to shape their lives quite directly A History of the European Restorations Michael Broers, Ambrogio A. Caiani, Stephen Bann, 2019-11-14 The second volume shines a light on the cultural and social changes that took place during the epoch of European Restorations when the death of the Napoleonic empire existed as a crucial moment for contemporaries Expanding the transnational approach of Volume I the chapters focus on the transmutation of ordinary experiences of war into folklore and popular culture the emergence of grassroots radical politics and conspiracies on the Left and Right and the relationship between literacy and religion with new cases included from Spain Norway and Russia A wide ranging and impressive work this book completes a collection on the history of the European Restorations

Bodies and Artefacts: Historical Materialism as Corporeal Semiotics (2 vols.) Joseph Fracchia, 2021-12-20 In a seemingly offhand often overlooked comment Karl Marx deemed human corporeal organisation the first fact of human history Following Marx's corporeal turn and pursuing the radical implications of his corporeal insight this book undertakes a reconstruction of the corporeal foundations of historical materialism Part I exposes the corporeal roots of Marx's materialist conception of history and historical materialist Wissenschaft Part II attempts a historical materialist mapping of human corporeal organisation Suggesting how to approach human histories up from their corporeal foundations Part III elaborates historical materialism as corporeal semiotics Part IV a case study of Marx's critique of capitalist socio economic and cultural forms reveals the corporeal foundations of that critique and the corporeal depth of his vision of human freedom and dignity

Neoliberalism and Culture in China and Hong Kong Hai Ren, 2010-10-04 This book examines the period leading up to the Hong Kong handover in 1997 the countdown of time and by using iconic cultural symbols such as the countdown clock the Hong Kong Museum exhibitions and cultural heritage sites argues that China has undergone a transition to neoliberal state in part through its reunification with Hong Kong The problem of synchronization with the world a Chinese phrase that epitomizes China's engagement with modern capitalism since the first Opium War was characterized throughout the 20th century as a humiliation weakness tragedy and disaster with China in the role of the victim of capitalist globalization During the reunification with Hong Kong these conventional expressions were replaced by new ones such as de humiliation return self esteem and revival Hai Ren gives an ethnographic and historical analysis of this cultural and political transformation of China's globalization experience by looking closely at public history practices in mainland China and Hong Kong and how the reconfiguration of everyday life and cultural norms led to the development of this neoliberal China As a book which straddles Chinese and Hong Kong history politics cultural heritage and museum studies more generally it can be regarded as a work of cultural political economy which will appeal to students and scholars of all of the above
