 Adams, 2012-09-01 From Storyville brothels and narratives of turn of the century New Orleans to plantation tours Bette Davis films Elvis memorials Willa Cather s fiction and the annual prison rodeo held at the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola Jessica Adams considers spatial and ideological evolutions of southern plantations after slavery In Wounds of Returning Adams shows that the slave past returns to inhabit plantation landscapes that have been radically transformed by tourism consumer culture and modern modes of punishment even those landscapes from which slavery has supposedly been banished completely Adams explores how the commodification of black bodies during slavery did not disappear with abolition rather the same principle was transformed into modern consumer capitalism As Adams demonstrates however counternarratives and unexpected cultural hybrids erupt out of attempts to re create the plantation as an uncomplicated scene of racial relationships or a signifier of national unity Peeling back the layers of plantation landscapes Adams reveals connections between seemingly disparate features of modern culture suggesting that they remain haunted by the force of the unnatural equation of people as property Shakin' Up Race and Gender Marta E. Sánchez, 2009-07-21 The second phase of the civil rights movement 1965 1973 was a pivotal period in the development of ethnic groups in the United States In the years since then new generations have asked new questions to cast light on this watershed era No longer is it productive to consider only the differences between ethnic groups we must also study them in relation to one another and to U S mainstream society In Shakin Up Race and Gender Marta E S nchez creates an intercultural frame to study the historical and cultural connections among Puerto Ricans African Americans and Chicanos as since the 1960s Her frame opens up the black white binary that dominated the 1960s and 1970s It reveals the hidden yet real ties that connected ethnics of color and white ethnics in a shared intercultural history By using key literary works published during this time S nchez reassesses and refutes the unflattering portrayals of ethnics by three leading intellectuals Octavio Paz Daniel Patrick Moynihan and Oscar Lewis who wrote about Chicanos African Americans and Puerto Ricans She links their implicit misogyny to the trope of La Malinche from Chicano culture and shows how specific characteristics of this trope enslavement alleged betrayal and cultural negotiation are also present in African American and Puerto Rican cultures S nchez employs the trope to restore the agency denied to these groups Intercultural contact encounters between peoples of distinct ethnic groups is the theme of this book
