Women and Peacebuilding in Africa Ladan Affi, Liv Tønnessen, Aili Mari Tripp, 2021 Even in the best of circumstances women are all too often excluded from formal peacemaking and peacebuilding processes and relegated to the sidelines as observers or limited to informal peacebuilding strategies Yet there is enormous potential in these strategies as women often strive to build bridges across political ethnic religious clan and other differences through alliances arising from common concerns around violence land access to resources and protection of their families and communities and address sources of conflict at both national and local levels Drawing on cutting edge research by scholars and women's rights activists in South Sudan Sudan Algeria northern Nigeria and Somalia this book focuses on the consequences of the continuing exclusions of women from peace talks and from post conflict governance structures The case studies reveal how peacebuilding is gendered and why this matters in developing meaningful and sustainable approaches to peacebuilding Examining how women activists have made a difference through informal peacebuilding activities the contributors explore women's efforts to reshape the post conflict context by struggling for legislative and constitutional reforms and by advocating for political representation and political inclusion more generally within peacebuilding processes They also look at how women have pushed back against the conservative Islamist forces that today dominate much armed conflict in Africa Suggesting that women's formal participation in peace negotiations is vital in bringing about an end to conflict and preventing its resumption as well as the one of the most effective strategies this book will be essential reading for scholars and NGOs involved in development conflict resolution and peacebuilding

Autofiction Antonia Wimbush, 2021 This book examines themes of exile mobility and identity in contemporary autofictional narratives written in French by women writers from across the francophone world It reads exile in light of both gender and literary genre arguing that autofiction gives women the space to reconfigure their exile on their own terms

Identity, Mediation, and the Cunning of Capital Ani Maitra, 2020-05-15 In Identity Mediation and the Cunning of Capital Ani Maitra urgently calls for a reevaluation of identity politics as an aesthetic maneuver regulated by capitalism A dominant critical trend in the humanities Maitra argues is to dismiss or embrace identity through the formal properties of a privileged aesthetic medium such as literature cinema or even the performative body In contrast he demonstrates that identity politics becomes unavoidably real and material only because the minoritized subject is split between multiple sites of mediation visual linguistic and sonic while remaining firmly tethered to capitalism's hierarchical logic of value production

Only in the interstices of media can we track the aesthetic conversion of identitarian difference into value marked by the inequities of race class gender and sexuality Maitra's archive is transnational and multimodal Moving from anticolonial polemics to psychoanalysis to diasporic experimental literature to postcolonial feminist and queer media he lays bare the cunning by which capitalism produces and fragments identity through an intermedial aesthetic dissonance with the commodity form Maitra's novel contribution to theories of identity and to the concept of mediation will interest a wide range of scholars in media studies critical race and postcolonial studies and critical aesthetics

Language, Society and Ideologies in Multilingual Egypt Valentina Serreli, 2024-03-18 The book explores the change over time in language society relations in a multilingual periphery of Egypt It examines the role of language ideologies in the construction and negotiation of social identities in the processes of contact maintenance and shift typical of multilingualism Based on extensive fieldwork and interviews it is the first of its kind to portray the inventory of linguistic and accompanying non linguistic behaviors observed within and between different ethnolinguistic groups in the Siwa Oasis It provides first hand information about the linguistic habits of Siwan women an aspect which is generally difficult to access in this gender segregated community The book sheds light on Berber Arabic contact at the core of the Arab world and at a critical time when individual linguistic repertoires are expanding and Arabic is emerging as a powerful resource

The Cultural Politics of English as an International Language Alastair Pennycook, 2017-03-16 A much cited and highly influential text by Alastair Pennycook one of the world authorities in sociolinguistics The Cultural Politics of English as an International Language explores the globalization of English by examining its colonial origins its connections to linguistics and applied linguistics and its relationships to the global spread of teaching practices Nine chapters cover a wide range of key topics including international politics colonial history critical pedagogy postcolonial literature The book provides a critical understanding of the concept of the worldliness of English or the idea that English can never be removed from the social cultural economic or political contexts in which it is used Reissued with a substantial preface this Routledge Linguistics Classic remains a landmark text which led a much needed critical and ideologically informed investigation into the burgeoning topic of World Englishes Key reading for all those working in the areas of Applied Linguistics Sociolinguistics and World Englishes
