

A photograph of the exterior of Lauderdale Lakes Middle School. The building has a long, low profile with a grey corrugated metal roof. A prominent white horizontal band across the front of the building contains the school's name in black, serif, all-caps lettering. Below this band, the building's facade is a light tan color with several vertical yellow columns. Four grey metal benches are positioned along the front of the building, one between each pair of columns. The foreground consists of a grey asphalt parking lot with some visible cracks and a storm drain. The sky above is blue with light, wispy clouds.
