Histoire Sciences Savoirs Renaissance Lumi Res:

The Origins of the Idea of Scientific Progress Daniel Špelda, 2024-06-21 This volume offers a new interpretation of the genesis of the idea of scientific progress in early modern science and philosophy The interpretation argues that the idea of scientific progress was not a historical category but an epistemological one The main thesis of the book posits that the idea of scientific progress was a methodological means of dealing with the contingency of nature To illustrate the novelty of the idea the individual chapters compare several features of Renaissance natural philosophy with a new regime of knowledge that included time as an inevitable factor of empirical research The temporal regime of knowledge is illustrated by the work of Bernard de Fontenelle and his colleagues at the Acad mie des sciences in Paris at the end of the 17th century The new interpretation remedies a gap in recent scholarship where the idea of scientific progress has been overlooked even though the early modern natural philosophers themselves used it to describe the nature of their research The book places both well known texts and less studied documents in a new light thus contributing to the lively and rich debate on the origins and nature of early modern science and philosophy It is of interest to scholars studying the history of early modern philosophy and science

Les Réseaux de sociabilité dans la culture des Lumières. Circulations, échanges et transferts.

Tome VIII Vanessa Alayrac-Fielding, 2022-12-16 T00:00:00+01:00 Ce volume de Transversales constitue le huitième volet des travaux de spécialistes des études sur le dix-huitième siècle français et britannique Ces chercheurs tentent de redéfinir les modes opératoires de la sociabilité pour chacune des deux nations partir de sources claires ou moins connues et s'interrogent sur la réalité de la supériorité du modèle français de la sociabilité Le présent volume s'intéresse tout particulièrement à la circulation de ces modèles nationaux tout au long de réseaux familiaux amicaux marchands savants ou encore diplomatiques qui ont le point commun de développer des formes de sociabilité fondées sur des échanges de nature conviviale ou encore sur un partage et une transmission de savoirs Dans une aire géographique qui s'étend désormais toute l'Europe ainsi qu'à ses colonies cet ouvrage met au jour des phénomènes de transferts d'échanges de détournements et d'hybridation travers une série d'études qui prennent en compte non seulement la dimension transnationale de la constitution des réseaux d'échanges mais aussi les parcours individuels This volume is the eighth in the Transversales series published by a group of researchers of different nationalities on the topic of sociability in France and Britain during the Enlightenment The research focuses on the extent to which a new model of sociability emerged in these nations during this period and the similarities and differences between the ways this model developed on each side of the Channel The present volume looks at the circulation of these national models along the lines of familial friendship trading scholarly or diplomatic networks which all foster forms of sociability based on convivial exchanges and the sharing and transmission of knowledge In a geographical area that now extends across Europe and towards its colonies this book sheds light on modes of transfer exchange reappropriation and hybridisation through a series of case studies that highlight not only the transnational nature of these networks but also individual trajectories The

Institutionalization of Science in Early Modern Europe, 2019-11-26 This volume aims to furnish a broader framework for analyzing the scientific and institutional context that gave rise to scientific academies in Europe including the Accademia del Cimento in Florence the Royal Society in London the Académie Royale des Sciences in Paris and the Academia naturae curiosorum in Schweinfurt The essays detail the multiple backgrounds that prompted seventeenth century savants from Italy to England and from Poland to Portugal to establish new forms of scientific organizations in which to institutionalize collaborative research as well as modes of communication with like minded individuals and associations

The Technical Corps Between France and Italy, 1750-1814 Lorenzo Cuccoli, 2024-10-04 This book provides the first comprehensive study of the technical corps during the Napoleonic Era both in France and in Italy These corps which possessed advanced schooling and nurtured meritocratic practices even in the Ancien Régime came to the forefront with the French Revolution due to the increase in prestige of both scientists and the military Notwithstanding the key roles played by well known figures such as Lazare Carnot and Napoleon Bonaparte the historiography has not fully explored either the culture that produced them or the impact this had in France and in Napoleonic Europe or their far reaching legacy The modern paradigms of technocracy and meritocracy in fact have their origin in these corps

Knowledge and the Early Modern City Bert De Munck, Antonella Romano, 2019-08-20 Knowledge and the Early Modern City uses case studies from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries to examine the relationships between knowledge and the city and how these changed in a period when the nature and conception of both was drastically transformed Both knowledge formation and the European city were increasingly caught up in broader institutional structures and regional and global networks of trade and exchange during the early modern period Moreover new ideas about the relationship between nature and the transcendent as well as technological transformations impacted upon both considerably This book addresses the entanglement between knowledge production and the early modern urban environment while incorporating approaches to the city and knowledge in which both are seen as emerging from hybrid networks in which human and non human elements continually interact and acquire meaning It highlights how new forms of knowledge and new conceptions of the urban co emerged in highly contingent practices shedding a new light on present day ideas about the impact of cities on knowledge production and innovation Providing the ideal starting point for those seeking to understand the role of urban institutions actors and spaces in the production of knowledge and the development of the so called modern knowledge society this is the perfect resource for students and scholars of early modern history and knowledge

Nineteenth Century Businesswomen Charlotte Le Chapelain, 2024-06-30 The book examines female entrepreneurship in the nineteenth century Economic history has long accorded women entrepreneurs a very minor place relegating them to the status of historical anecdotes The hypothesis of women s withdrawal from the business sphere after the eighteenth century has long dominated However this view has recently been subject to a fundamental questioning Women did in fact actively contribute to economic development by occupying key positions in the business sphere as independent workers investors and entrepreneurs Businesswomen were no exception in the nineteenth century They ran businesses of all sizes and in a wide range of industrial sectors This book helps to bring nineteenth century women entrepreneurs out of invisibility by examining their entrepreneurial practices and shedding light on the role of the legal framework in which they operated This interdisciplinary book will appeal to students scholars and researchers of economic history business history history of law and economics and management sciences in general interested in a better understanding of female entrepreneurship in the nineteenth century

Women's Private Practices of Knowledge Production in Early Modern Europe Natacha Klein Käfer, Natália da Silva Perez, 2023-12-29 This open access book explores knowledge practices by five women from different European contexts Contributors document analyze and discuss how women employed practices of privacy to pursue knowledge that did not necessarily conform with the curriculum prescribed for them The practices of Jane Lumley in England Camila Herculiana in Padua Victorine de Chastenay in Paris as well as Elisabeth Sophie Marie and Philippine Charlotte in Brunswick Wolfenb ttel will help us to exemplify the delicate balance between audacity and obedience that women had to employ to be able to explore science literature philosophy theology and other types of learned activities Cases range from the sixteenth to the nineteenth century presenting continuities and discontinuities across temporal and geographical lines of the strategies that women used to protect their knowledge production and retain intact their reputations as good Christian daughters wives and mothers Taken together the essays show how having access to privacy the ability to regulate access to themselves while studying and learning was a crucial condition for the success of the knowledge activities these women pursued This is an open access book

The Science of State Power in the Habsburg Monarchy, 1790-1880 Borbala Zsuzsanna Török, 2024-06-01 The formation of modern European states during the long 19th century was a complicated process challenged by the integration of widely different territories and populations The Science of State Power in the Habsburg Monarchy 1790 1880 builds on recent research to investigate the history of statistics as an overlooked part of the sciences of the state in Habsburg legal education as well as within the broader public sphere By exploring the practices and social spaces of statistics author Borbala Zsuzsanna Török uncovers its central role in imagining the composite Habsburg Monarchy as a modern and unified administrative space

L'institution philosophique française et la Renaissance : l'époque de Victor Cousin, 2022-05-16 Au cours du XIXe si cle l histoire de la philosophie s est impos e comme une discipline centrale dans l institution philosophique fran aise Ce processus reposait sur l influence intellectuelle et politique exerc e par Victor Cousin 1792 1867 il a co ncid avec l laboration d un sch ma interpr tatif conf rant la Renaissance en tant qu poque philosophique un statut controvers caract ris par l inf riorit conceptuelle L ouvrage claire les enjeux id ologiques des d bats sur la Renaissance dans la France du XIXe si cle Il propose une approche globale des reconstructions rudites et des utilisations pol miques de la Renaissance centr e sur une relecture politique de la pratique historiographique ainsi que sur ses r seaux personnels acad miques et transnationaux During the nineteenth century the history of philosophy established itself in France as a central discipline within the academic institutions This process which rested on the intellectual and political influence of Victor Cousin 1792 1867 coincided with the development of an interpretative scheme that gave the Renaissance as philosophical epoch a controversial status characterized by conceptual inferiority This volume sheds light on the ideological implications of the debates on the Renaissance in nineteenth century France It offers a comprehensive approach to the scholarly reconstructions and polemical uses of the Renaissance by developing a political and transnational rereading of the nineteenth century French practices of the history of philosophy

L'entrepreneuriat scientifique : institutions et innovation

,2019-01-22 Au cours des siècles les structures universitaires ont considérablement évolué et avec elles le rôle du scientifique. La révolution industrielle du XIX^e siècle a rendu nécessaire le développement d'une relation étroite entre la production industrielle et la production de connaissances scientifiques relation dans laquelle l'entrepreneur fait figure de médiateur. Ce numéro a pour ambition de faire le portrait de l'institution universitaire notamment quant à sa première mission la production de connaissances.

Genealogy of Popular Science Jesús Muñoz Morcillo, Caroline Y. Robertson-von Trotha, 2020-10-27 Despite the efforts of modern scholars to explain the origins of science communication as a social rhetorical and aesthetic phenomenon most researchers approach the popularization of science from the perspective of present issues thus ignoring its historical roots in classical culture along with its continuities disruptions and transformations This volume fills this research gap with a genealogically reflected introduction into the popularization of science as a recurrent cultural technique The category popular science is elucidated in interdisciplinary and diachronic dialogue discussing case studies from all historical periods Classicists archaeologists medievalists art historians sociologists and historians of science provide the first diachronic and multi layered approach to the rhetoric techniques aesthetics and societal conditions that have shaped the dissemination and reception of scientific knowledge

Transnational Cultures of Expertise Lothar Schilling, Jakob Vogel, 2019-09-23 Building on the new critical historiography about the evolution of the European state the book analyses how administrators scientists popular publicists and other actors tried to redefine the realms of state action in the Sattelzeit Koselleck By focussing on the specific strategies of these actors and on the transnational circulation and dissemination of state related knowledge itself the contributors of the book highlight the fluidity and the interconnections of the European debate in the crucial period of the development of the modern nation state and its administration They study the common European features of the evolution of a new type of statehood built upon multiple circulations and transfers that forged administrative practices in the different fields of state action Analysing important fields of expertise ranging from agricultural knowledge mining sciences to anthropological knowledge which laid the basis for the new scientific foundations of administration the book underlines the necessity of a re evaluation of the classical approaches to the history of state in the 18th and 19th centuries
