Stories from Home Margaret Ponsonby,2016-04-01 Most homes in the past were not elite wealthy interiors complete with high fashion furnishings designed by well known architects and designers as many domestic histories often seem to have assumed As this book makes clear there were in fact an enormous variety of house interiors in England during the period 1750 1850 reflecting the location status and gender of particular householders as well as their changing attitudes tastes and aspirations By focusing on non metropolitan homes which represented the majority of households in England this study highlights the need for historians to look beyond prevailing attitudes that often reduce interiors to generic descriptions based on high fashions of the decorative arts Instead it shows how numerous social and cultural influences affected the manner in which homes were furnished and decorated Issues such as the availability of goods gender regional taste income the second hand market changing notions of privacy and household hierarchies and print culture could all have a significant impact on domestic furnishing The study ends with a discussion of how domestic interiors of historic properties have been presented and displayed in modern times highlighting how competing notions of the past can cloud as well as illuminate the issue Combining cultural history and qualitative analysis of evidence this book presents a new way of looking at ordinary and provincial homes that enriches our understanding of English domestic life of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Museum Administration Hugh H. Genoways, Lynne M. Ireland, 2003-09-08 Wondering what a museum director actually does About to start your first director's job Looking for guidance in starting up a museum or working with a museum director Hugh Genoways and Lynne Ireland have taken the mystery out and put common sense and good guidance in Learn about everything from budgets and strategic planning to human resources and facilities management to collections and programming Genoways and Ireland also help you tackle legal documents legal and ethical issues and challenges for the modern museum Case studies and exercises throughout help you review and practice what you are learning and their extensive references will be a welcome resource Authenticity in the Preservation of Historical Wooden
