an end to the Renaissance era An Art Lover's Guide to Florence Judith Testa,2012-09-15 No city but Florence contains such an intense concentration of art produced in such a short span of time The sheer number and proximity of works of painting sculpture and architecture in Florence can be so overwhelming that Florentine hospitals treat hundreds of visitors each year for symptoms brought on by trying to see them all an illness famously identified with the French author Stendhal While most guidebooks offer only brief descriptions of a large number of works with little discussion of the historical background Judith Testa gives a fresh perspective on the rich and brilliant art of the Florentine Renaissance in An Art Lover's Guide to Florence Concentrating on a number of the greatest works by such masters as Botticelli and Michelangelo Testa explains each piece in terms of what it meant to the people who produced it and for whom they made it deftly treating the complex interplay of politics sex and religion that were involved in the creation of those works With Testa as a guide armchair travelers and tourists alike will delight in the fascinating world of Florentine art and history Hybridity in Early Modern Art Ashley Elston,Madeline Rislow,2021-09-15 This collection of essays explores hybridity in early modern art through two primary lenses hybrid media and hybrid time The varied approaches in the volume to theories of hybridity reflect the increased presence in art historical scholarship of interdisciplinary frameworks that extend art historical inquiry beyond the single time or material The essays engage with what happens when an object is considered beyond the point of origin or as a legend of information the implications of the juxtaposition of disparate media how the meaning of an object alters over time and what the conspicuous use of out of date styles means for the patron artist and or viewer Essays examine both canonical and lesser known works produced by European artists in Italy northern Europe and colonial Peru ca 1400 1600 The book will be of interest to art historians visual culture historians and early modern historians The Acts of the Apostles Through the Centuries Heidi J. Rethinking the Needham Question

Raymond W. K. Lau,2024-12-24 This book offers a new investigation of the Needham Question Why did modern science emerge in Europe but not in any of the advanced non European civilizations Eurocentric accounts attribute it to certain qualities said to be unique to Europe Opposed to the Eurocentric view is a position known as the dialogical perspective Dialogism argues that Europe borrowed heavily from non European scientific knowledges and that scientific exchanges were key to the development of modern science Neo Eurocentric arguments have emerged in response to the challenge of dialogism and the debate between Eurocentrism neo Eurocentrism and dialogism currently stands at a stalemate In this book Raymond Lau brings a new theoretical methodological framework to finally settle this debate The historical analysis developed here shows that to secure the non Eurocentric case and decisively rebut Eurocentrism and neo Eurocentrism it is necessary to go beyond dialogism both theoretically and methodologically

Sensational Religion Sally

Promey,2014-06-24 The result of a collaborative multiyear project this groundbreaking book explores the interpretive worlds that inform religious practice and derive from sensory phenomena Under the rubric of making sense the studies assembled here ask How have people used and valued sensory data How have they shaped their material and immaterial worlds to encourage or discourage certain kinds or patterns of sensory experience How have they framed the sensual capacities of images and objects to license a range of behaviors including iconoclasm censorship and accusations of blasphemy or sacrilege Exposing the dematerialization of religion embedded in secularization theory editor Sally Promey proposes a fundamental reorientation in understanding the personal social political and cultural work accomplished in religion s sensory and material practice Sensational Religion refocuses scholarly attention on the robust material entanglements often discounted by modernity s metaphysic and on their inextricable connections to human bodies behaviors affects and beliefs

A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier,2008-11-28 Is writing a world art history possible Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric In this highly readable and provocative book David Carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself Rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history
