Language Use And Language Learning In Clil Classrooms:

Language Use and Language Learning in CLIL Classrooms Christiane Dalton-Puffer, Tarja Nikula, Ute Smit, 2010-12-15 This volume explores a highly topical issue in second and foreign language education the spreading practice in mainstream education to teach content subjects through a foreign language CLIL has been enthusiastically embraced as a language enrichment measure in many contexts and finally research can offer principled insights into its dynamics and potentials The editors introductory and concluding chapters offer a synthesis of current CLIL research as well as a critical discussion of unresolved issues relating both to theoretical concerns and research practice The individual contributions by authors from a range of European contexts report on current empirical research in this dynamic field The focus of these chapters ranges from theoretical to empirical from learning outcomes to classroom talk examining both the written and spoken mode across secondary and tertiary educational contexts This volume is a valuable resource not only for researchers and teachers but also for policy makers

Discourse in Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Classrooms Christiane Dalton-Puffer, 2007 The label CLIL stands for classrooms where a foreign language English is used as a medium of instruction in content subjects This book provides a first in depth analysis of the kind of communicative abilities which are embodied in such CLIL classrooms It examines teacher and student talk at secondary school level from different discourse analytic angles taking into account the interpersonal pragmatics of classroom discourse and how school subjects are talked into being during lessons The analysis shows how CLIL classroom interaction is strongly shaped by its institutional context which in turn conditions the ways in which students experience use and learn the target language The research presented here suggests that CLIL programmes require more explicit language learning goals in order to fully exploit their potential for furthering the learners appropriation of a foreign language as a medium of learning

Discourse and language learning across L2 instructional settings, 2012-01-01 Studies on discourse and language learning originated in the field of general education and they focused on first language learning environments However since 1980s research on discourse and language learning broadened the scope of investigation to respond to second and foreign language environments Recently the emergence of new language learning contexts such as computer mediated communication multilingual settings or content and language integrated contexts requires further research that focuses on discourse and language learning From this perspective the present volume aims to broaden the scope of investigation in foreign language contexts by exploring discourse patterns in the classroom and examining the impact of factors such as gender explicitness of feedback or L1 use on language learning through discourse With that aim in mind this volume will bring together research that investigates discourse in various instructional settings namely those of primary secondary and university L2 learning environments content and language integrated contexts and other new language learning settings The number and variety of languages involved both as the first language e g English Finnish Basque Spanish Japanese French Italian Catalan as well as the target foreign language e g English French Italian Japanese Spanish makes the volume specially attractive Additionally the different approaches adopted by the researchers participating in this volume such as information processing sociocultural theory or conversation analysis widen the realm of investigation on discourse and language learning Finally the strength of the volume also lies in the range of educational settings primary secondary and tertiary education and the worldwide representation of contributors across seven different countries namely those of Spain France Austria Finland Germany Canada Australia and the United States The uniqueness of the volume is due to its eclectic and comprehensive nature in tackling instructional discourse Worldwide outstanding researchers like Julianne House Carme Mu oz Ute Smit Tarja Nikula or Roy Lyster to quote but a few adopt different perspectives in this joint contribution that will certainly broaden the scope of research on language learners discourse

Investigating Content and Language Integrated Learning Liss Kerstin Sylvén, 2019-01-18 This book provides a rich and unique longitudinal account of content and language integrated learning CLIL The chapters report on the findings from a large scale three year research project undertaken at senior high school level in Sweden The ecological perspective with quantitative and qualitative methods gives voice to both learners and teachers as well as being an excellent critical example of how such longitudinal research might be carried out Through emic and etic approaches the book provides insights into language learning outcomes both with regard to the target language English and the majority language Swedish learner motivation among CLIL and non CLIL students effects of extramural exposure to English issues in relation to assessment in CLIL and much more As a whole the book offers an unprecedented overview of learner outcomes and detailed insights into the comparison of CLIL and non CLIL education While it is embedded in the Swedish context the nature of this study means that it has strong implications on an international basis

Content-based Language Learning in Multilingual Educational Environments Maria Juan-Garau, Joana Salazar-Noguera, 2014-11-17 The spread of English as an international language along with the desire to maintain local languages lead us to consider multilingualism as the norm rather than the exception Consequently bi multilingual education has bloomed over the last decades This volume deals with one such type of education currently in the spotlight as an essentially European strategy to multilingualism CLIL Content and Language Integrated Learning in which curricular content is taught through a foreign language The book contributes new empirical evidence on its effects on linguistic and attitudinal outcomes focusing on bi multilingual learners who acquire English as an additional language Moreover it presents critical analyses of factors influencing multilingual education the effects of CLIL on both language and content learning and the contrast between CLIL and other models of instruction The research presented suggests that CLIL can greatly enhance language acquisition in multilingual settings

Peer Interactions in New Content and Language Integrated Settings Nathan J. Devos, 2015-11-04 Trade schools universities and programs for international students have begun to experiment with Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL as a viable pedagogy for instruction as the pedagogy of CLIL increasingly gains recognition as a practical form of language and content education in Europe and beyond and its application in instructional settings becomes more diverse Corresponding with CLIL's growth this book focuses on foreign language use during peer interactions in a new CLIL setting It particularly concentrates on how to conduct research when the focus is on learner interactions The theoretical background research methods and research instruments are explained in a brief and understandable manner This book is intended for those interested in CLIL and peer interactions and includes a framework and ideas for investigating new CLIL contexts in a practical manner allowing undergraduate and graduate students to conduct their own research in these settings
