Women shoot for the stars in fire power training on Women's Day

Two of the many women determined to learn more about firearms for self-defence.

About 300 women from the Laudium/Ennasia area and even beyond, converged at Enas Tactical Shooting Range in Ennasia, this past Wednesday (Aug 9) to get free first-hand basic knowledge in firearms as a sport and for self-defence. The event which was sponsored by the owner of the range, Ismail (Smiley) Essa, in honour of Women's Day, saw women being briefed about the safe handling of firearms and given the opportunity to shoot a few live rounds, under the supervision of female range safety officers. Smiley told the Laudium Sun, "With all the crime going on in the area, we believe that it is important for women to be trained in the safe handling of firearms, as they are the ones who are alone at home during the day and are also being attacked. We had to have 2 sessions for the many women who attended the first session 'special shoot on the house' event and we will now be having follow ups." The initiative, which many regarded as long overdue, was supported by several local organisations, including the recently formed OGA, Gated Project, Ofr Naeem Patel and the Laudium Sun.

Launch of 'Golden Girls' initiative at Spur - a golden effort

A heartwarming initiative called 'Golden Girls' was launched at the Eldoropark Prime Eagle Spur, this past Tuesday (August 8), just ahead of Women's Day. The inspiring endeavor recognized the importance of social interaction with Spur's warm and inviting atmosphere setting the stage for wonderful conversation, laughter and memories as women, especially the elderly from neighbouring communities, came together to nurture old relationships and foster new friendships. The initiative offered not only a platform for social interaction, but dining out and enjoying meals at discounted rates, courtesy of Spur. Naledine Gutter-Cassidy, one of the organizers said, "We plan to welcome our mothers, aunts, sisters and elders twice a month at Spur, providing a welcoming space for them to connect with their peers."
