BOOK JACKET A Medieval Songbook Elizabeth Eva Leach, Joseph W. Mason, Matthew P. Thomson, 2022 Detailed exploration of an enigmatic manuscript containing the texts to hundreds of songs but no musical notation The medieval songbook known variously as trouv re manuscript C or the Bern Chansonniere Bern Burgerbibliothek Cod 389 is one of the most important witnesses to musical life in thirteenth century France Almost certainly copied in Metz it provides the texts to over five hundred Old French songs and is a unique insight into cultures of song making and copying on the linguistic and political borders between French and German speaking lands in the Middle Ages Notably the names of trouv res including several female poet musicians are found in its margins names which would be unknown today without this evidence However the manuscript has received relatively little scholarly attention partly because the songs musical staves remained empty for reasons now unknown and partly because of where it was copied This collection of essays is the first to consider C on its own terms and from a range of disciplinary perspectives including philology art history literary studies and musicology The contributors explore the process of creating the complex object that is a music manuscript examining the work of the scribes and artists who worked on C and questioning how scribes acquired and organised exemplars for copying The peculiarly Messine flavour of the repertoire and authors is also discussed with contributors showing that C frames the tradition of Old French song from a unique perspective As a whole the volume demonstrates how in this eastern hub of music and poetry poet composers readers and scribes interacted with the courtly song tradition in fascinating and unusual ways

Medieval Lyric William Doremus Paden, 2000 An essential volume for medievalists and scholars of comparative literature Medieval Lyric opens up a reconsideration of genre in medieval European lyric Departing from a perspective that asks how medieval genres correspond with twentieth century ideas of structure or with the evolution of poetry this collection argues that the development of genres should be considered as a historical phenomenon embedded in a given culture and responsive to social and literary change

Songbook Marisa Galvez, 2020-03-04 How medieval songbooks were composed in collaboration with the community and across languages and societies Eloquent clearly argued Times Literary Supplement Today we usually think of a book of poems as composed by a poet rather than assembled or adapted by a network of poets and readers But the earliest European vernacular poetries challenge these assumptions Medieval songbooks remind us how lyric poetry was once communally produced and received a collaboration of artists performers live audiences and readers stretching across languages and societies The only comparative study of its kind Songbook treats what poetry was before the emergence of the modern category poetry that is how vernacular songbooks of the thirteenth to fifteenth centuries shaped our modern understanding of poetry by establishing expectations of what is a poem what is a poet and what is lyric poetry itself Marisa Galvez analyzes the seminal songbooks representing the vernacular traditions of Occitan Middle High German and Castilian and tracks the process by which the songbook emerged from the original performance contexts of oral publication into a medium for preservation and finally into an established literary object Galvez reveals that songbooks in ways that resonate with our modern practice of curated archives and playlists contain lyric music images and other nonlyric texts selected and ordered to reflect the local values and preferences of their readers At a time when medievalists are reassessing the historical foundations of their field and especially the national literary canons established in the nineteenth century a new examination of the songbook's role in several vernacular traditions is more relevant than ever

The Death Penalty in Late-Medieval Catalonia Flocel Sabaté, 2019-09-03 The death penalty was unusual in medieval Europe until the twelfth century From that moment on it became a key instrument of rule in European society and we can study it in the case of Catalonia through its rich and varied unpublished documentation The death penalty was justified by Roman Law accepted by Theology and Philosophy for the Common Good and used by rulers as an instrument for social intimidation The application of the death penalty followed a regular trial and the status of the individual dictated the method of execution reserving the fire for the worst crimes as the Inquisition applied against the so called heretics The executions were public and the authorities and the people shared the common goal of restoring the will of God which had been broken by the executed person The death penalty took an important place in the core of the medieval mind people included executions in the jokes and popular narratives while the gallows filled the landscape fitting the jurisdictional limits and also showing rotten corpses to assert that the best way to rule and order the society is by terror This book utilises previously unpublished archival sources to present a unique study on the death penalty in late Medieval Europe

A Handbook of the Troubadours F. R. P. Akehurst, Judith M. Davis, 2023-04-28 This book is a reference volume and a digest of more than a century of scholarly work on troubadour poetry Written by leading scholars it summarizes the current consensus on the various facets of troubadour studies Standing at the beginning of the history of modern European verse the troubadours were the prime poets and composers of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries in the South of France No study of medieval literature is complete without an examination of the courtly love which is celebrated in the elaborately rhymed stanzas of troubadour verse creations whose words and melodies were imitated by poets and musicians all over medieval Europe The words of about 2 500 troubadour songs have survived along with 250 melodies and all have come under intense scholarly scrutiny This Handbook brings together the fruits of this scrutiny giving teachers and students an overview of the fundamental issues in troubadour scholarship All quotations are given in the original Old Occitan and in English The editors provide a list of troubadour editions and an index and each chapter includes a list of additional readings This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1996 This book is a reference volume and a digest of more than a century of scholarly work on troubadour poetry Written by leading scholars it summarizes the current consensus on the various facets of troubadour studies Standing at the beginning Exemplary Comparison from Homer to Petrarch Olive Sayce, 2008 Study of comparison and identification with exemplary figures drawn from myth history and historical legend the Bible the authorial canon and literary tradition from Homer to the interrelated branches of the medieval European vernacular lyric up to the end of the fourteenth century The first half treats Homer Virgil Latin poets from Catullus to Ovid and late and medieval Latin poets The second half discusses the troubadour lyric including Italian and Catalan poets who wrote in the language of the troubadours the trouvèr e lyric the German lyric and the Sicilian and Italian lyric up to Petrarch The languages covered are thus classical Greek classical post classical and medieval Latin Occitan Old Provençal Old French and medieval German and Italian Representative examples of comparison and identification are given in the original language followed by translation and textual and literary analysis Spaces of Knowledge Noemi Barrera, Gemma Pellissa-Prades, Delfi I. Nieto-Isabel, 2014-10-21 Medieval thought traditionally associated with great figures and with the works generated by an intellectual elite encompasses however a much wider variety and an extraordinary wealth of texts if one s perspective is broadened to include all the individuals that made up the society in which it developed Delving deep into the thought of an age entails an exercise of interdisciplinarity in which different dimensions and intellectual expressions all have a place This volume provides a space where the various disciplines that tackle the multifaceted subject of medieval thought unfold Through an analogy to the different levels of the acquisition of knowledge developed by the epistemology of the time the volume is divided into four separate albeit related ways of approaching medieval thought the sphere of senses and experience the domain of opinion and language speculation and the product of fantasy and the activity of intellect and reason This approach allows the conceptualisation of the many different ways in which the intellectual production of the Middle Ages manifests itself but also demands expanding the meaning of what is understood as the thought or knowledge of an era Next to major philosophical theological political and medical works and those related to other scientific areas we find technical treatises devoted to various arts and disciplines In short the thought of an age consists of a rich diversity of elements and branches into numerous expressions that involve all social strata
