Exploring Magic Realism in Salman Rushdie's Fiction Ursula Kluwick, 2013-02-28 Kluwick breaks new ground in this book moving away from Rushdie studies that focus on his status as postcolonial or postmodern and instead considering the significance of magic realism in his fiction Rushdie's magic realism in fact lies at the heart of his engagement with the post colonial In a departure from conventional descriptions of magic realism based primarily on the Latin American tradition Kluwick here proposes an alternative definition allowing for a more accurate description of the form She argues that it is disharmony rather than harmony that is decisive that the incompatibility of the realist and the supernatural needs to be recognized as a driving force in Rushdie's fiction In its rigorous analysis of this Rushdian magic realism this book considers the entire corpus Midnight's Children Shame The Satanic Verses The Moor's Last Sigh The Ground Beneath Her Feet Shalimar the Clown and The Enchantress of Florence This study is the first of its kind to do so

Diasporic Marvellous Realism María Alonso Alonso, 2015-07-14 Diasporic Marvellous Realism highlights the interesting switch in perspective found in contemporary literary production where the supernatural is regarded from a diasporic perspective as marvellous rather than magical The titular term is applied to the influence of transterritorialization on the works of first and second generation immigrant writers when approaching and exploring the myths and legends of their culture of origin The texts included in this analysis show that the employment of this literary philosophy and narrative technique in contemporary literature involves a fruitful refocusing of the rhetorical gaze regarding the importance of cultural heritage as vindictory resistance to the lacunae of history and as celebratory re enfranchisement of diasporic communities in host countries such as Canada and the UK

Transgressing Frontiers Ngong Toh, 2021-04-02 The focus of this book is to assess through language and literary studies in interpretation the epistemic representation of frontiers in its shifting and fixing categories The contributing researchers stress on the fact that crisscrossing has taken its toll on communities and disciplines and that hegemonic positions are becoming increasingly redundant and provocative Frontier discourse is therefore a socio political and culturally oriented discourse Importing it to language and literary studies also shows that literary circles like language are equally shifting and erasing borderlines The chapters discuss crisscrossing of frontiers both as geography and epistemology This is in line with the new cultural ontology that opens up new interpretations and shifts from previous ones in the disciplines of Language Linguistics Arts and Literature The book pulls together a wide range of issues based on a plurality of theoretical assumptions The issues presented are grouped into three broad sections Section one looks at the creation of the self as a way to dismantle the other In section two the focus is on linguistic shifts and the fact that all languages need space in multilingual societies And section three shows how people travel out of their homelands to seek comfort Resourceful insightful and incisive the book offers depth and breadth in refined scholarship The contributors are masterly in their handling of borderlines between ideology and iconoclasm globalisation and nationalism memory and nation gender and identity official and indigenous languages self other dialectics migration and identity The book is an invaluable asset to researchers and students with a penchant for interdisciplinarity intertextuality multiculturalism and globalisation
