George,2016-03-03 Death penalty has produced endless discourses not only in the context of prisons prisoners and punishment but also in various legal aspects concerning the validity of death penalty the right to life and torture Death penalty is embedded in Indian law however very little is known about the people who are on death row barring a few media reports on them The main objective of this book is to enquire whether the dignity of prisoners is upheld while they confront the criminal justice system and whilst surviving on death row Additionally it explores the lived experiences and perceptions of prisoners on death row as they create meaning out of their world With this rationale 111 prisoners on death row in India and some of their family members were interviewed The theoretical underpinnings of phenomenology and symbolic interactionism coupled with data analysis lead to an understanding of the prisoners on death row with special reference to their demographic profile and the impact of death sentence on their families George's research highlights three salient features namely poverty social exclusion and marginalisation are antecedent to death penalty death penalty is a constructed account by the state machinery and prisoners on death row situate dignity higher in the juxtaposition of death and dignity

Prison Inmates Living with HIV in India Sayantani Guin, 2015-04-15 This Brief presents preliminary findings from research in three prisons in Maharashtra India on experiences of prison inmates there living with HIV. The study explores health care services in these prisons and problems experienced by inmates in India living with HIV as well as their staff and caregivers. Through this preliminary study the researchers shed light on the experiences of inmates in Indian prisons with an aim of presenting questions for future research. The author provides an overview of the global conditions of prison inmates living with HIV as an international comparative context for examining the cases in India. Major problems highlighted in the cases include living conditions, high risk behavior during incarceration, delivery of medical services and adherence to ethical guidelines. Results of the study reveal that overcrowding and inadequate nutrition were major concerns for inmates living with HIV. There were no support systems available inside the prisons to address the stress related issues of the inmates and the prison hospital did not have provisions to cater to the treatment needs of inmates living with AIDS. The study also found that confidentiality regarding the HIV positive status could not be maintained inside the prison. This Brief presents a window into the experience of inmates in India and presents questions for future research to understand and improve living conditions and medical service delivery within the prison system. This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice particularly interested in incarceration or health issues, public health and related areas such as public policy, international studies and demography studies in India.
