The Leader's Diet Emmanuel Goshen, 2014-11 Having managed and lead various teams at various levels within the third sector over eight years I have realised what it takes to lead teams execute plans and strategies to achieve expected results Without any form of doubt a reasonable leader needs to develop a vision of the organisation's future in which there is a need for the right skills and perfect knowledge in knowing how to implement and execute relevant strategies while hitting the nail on the head However it is important for leaders to communicate their vision to stakeholders knowing the reason for it and its relevance to the organisational current and future situation Having the right skills i.e. the required diet allows leaders respond to stakeholders about questions regarding the parameters needed to execute the organisation's vision once they've known the applicable principles factors and strategies to make it a reality and a success It is important to carry stakeholders along especially investors so as to be part of the visioning process i.e. understanding the need for change which enable them visualize the big picture for change However having the right diet would empower a leader to stand for the best in which they believe in Note that as a leader you should learn how to build a vision with others on board by taking insights and imagination about a potential line of action however this provides the platform for leaders to take initiative Visioning is a collaborative effort which facilitates growth and prosperity by gaining others commitment and support in achieving it However having a vision is one thing and another to develop and formulate the right strategies to make it a reality and remain in line with agreed goals as to produce the expected result it would be preferable for leaders to consider the situation factors and parameters surrounding an issue to be dealt with a clearly insight of what might be the possible outcome of any decision before making them A point of advice for leaders when making decision mostly in the aspect of executing strategies is that the successful execution pattern for Mr A can be the failure track for Mr B that's why leaders should clearly examine the situation regarding an issue indepthly before making decisions Vision without action is merely a dream Action without vision just passes the time Vision with action can change the world Joel Arthur Baker

Immigration and Freedom Chandran Kukathas, 2025-07-15 Few would deny that immigration controls are restrictions on individual freedom In debates about immigration however freedom is rarely mentioned When it is raised it is usually indirectly and the contending parties typically divide into those who question the wisdom or the morality of limiting the movement of would be immigrants and others who think such restrictions warranted The language of freedom rarely makes an appearance perhaps because the liberty of foreigners or aliens does not really interest most people Advocates of immigrants express a concern for the welfare of outsiders others appeal to the welfare of natives and the integrity of the nation The point of this book is to establish freedom as the basis of the immigration question Chandran Kukathas argues that what's at stake is nothing less than the liberty of citizens and residents of the free society and therefore the free society itself To put it simply immigration controls are controls on people and it is not possible to control some people without controlling others More specifically it is not possible to control outsiders aliens foreigners would be immigrants without controlling insiders as well and to enforce immigration control is to enforce control generally The author shows why this must be so and explains why it is significant Over the course of eight chapters and an epilogue the books draws anecdotally on current and historical immigration practices in Canada the United States Australia Japan Singapore and most of the major Western European countries but the information is deployed in service of an accessible first principles argument To assess immigration he says we must think then about what we value most about our society and also come to a clearer understanding about what we mean by immigration in the first place In the conclusion he defends the need for greater freedom of movement which ultimately means a world of more open borders
