English Language as Hydra Vaughan Rapatahana, Pauline Bunce, 2012 English Language as Hydra argues that far too often the English language industry has become a swirling beguiling monster unashamedly intent on challenging local lingua diversity and threatening individual identities This book brings together the voices of linguists literary figures and teaching professionals in a wide ranging expos of this enormous Hydra in action on four continents

Eclectic Museum of Foreign Literature, Science and Art John Holmes Agnew, 1843 To-day, 1896 English Teaching and Evangelical Mission Bill Johnston, 2017-01-25 Debates about the place of mission work in English Language Teaching continue to rage and yet full length studies of what really happens at the intersection of ELT and evangelical Christianity are rare In this book Johnston conducts a detailed ethnography of an evangelical language school in Poland looking at its Bible based curriculum and analyzing interaction in classes for adults He also explores the idea of relationship in the context of the school and its mission activity and more broadly the cultural encounter between North American evangelicalism and Polish Catholicism The book comprises an in depth examination of a key issue facing TEFL in the 21st century and will be of interest to all practitioners and scholars in the field whatever their position on this topic

English and Literacies Robyn Ewing, Siobhan O'Brien, Kathy Rushton, Lucy Stewart, Rachel Burke, Deb Brosseuk, 2022-02-18 English and Literacies introduces pre service teachers to the many facets of literacies and English education for primary students A Comparative Study of Islamic Finance in Australia and the UK Imran Lum, 2021-09-28 This book provides valuable insights into the practical challenges faced by the nascent Islamic finance industry and compares the Australian experience to developments in the UK It contributes to a greater understanding of how Muslims living as a minority in Australia and the UK negotiate Islamic doctrine in secular societies by focusing on one aspect of this negotiation namely the prohibition of rib There is little debate in the Islamic tradition on the prohibition of rib The differences however lie in the interpretation of rib and the question of how Muslims live in a society that is heavily reliant on interest and conventional banking yet at the same time adhere to Islamic guidelines Through the words of religious leaders Muslim professionals and university students Imran Lum provides real accounts of how Muslims in Australia and the UK practically deal with conventional banking and finance products such as home loans savings accounts and credit cards He also explores Muslim attitudes towards Islamic finance and queries whether religion is the sole determining factor when it comes to its uptake Drawing on his own unique experience as a practitioner responsible for growing an Islamic business in a conventional bank Lum provides a firsthand account of the complexities associated with structuring Islamic finance products that are not only sharia compliant but also competitive in a non Muslim jurisdiction Using uk k bonds as a case study he highlights the tangible and non tangible barriers to product development such as tax and regulatory requirements and the rise of Islamophobia Combining academic and industry experience Lum unpacks the relationship of Islamic finance with Muslim identity construction in the West and how certain modalities of religiosity can lead to an uptake of Islamic finance while others can lead to its rejection The Musical World ,1869
