

The top half of the image features a religious painting. It depicts a figure, likely an angel, with long, flowing golden hair and a red garment, standing in a golden, ethereal environment. The figure's arms are outstretched, and there is a bright, glowing light source behind them, creating a halo effect. The background is a mix of warm, golden and brown tones, suggesting a celestial or divine realm. The painting style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes.

God Matters Contemporary Christian Insights:

God Matters Herbert McCabe, 2005-01-01 Seldom have God matters been treated with such verve sense rigour and humour as in this collection of writings by Herbert McCabe The book demonstrates the depth and clarity of his theology and philosophy of God his appetite for controversy both political and theological as well as a traditional Catholic concern for prayer liturgy Mary and St Dominic The articles which range widely and represent over twenty years of characteristically dominican enterprise reveal a personality that is itself clear evidence that God matters Heavenly Bodies Sigurdson, 2016 Deep and wide study of 2 000 years of Christian thought on the human body Does Christianity scorn our bodies Friedrich Nietzsche thought so and many others since him have thought the same Ola Sigurdson contends to the contrary that Christianity understood properly in fact affirms human embodiment Presenting his constructive contributions to theology in relation to both historical and contemporary conceptions of the body Sigurdson begins by investigating the anthropological implications of the doctrine of the incarnation He then delves into the concept of the gaze and discusses a specifically Christian gaze of faith that focuses on God embodied in Jesus Finally he weaves these strands into a contemporary Christian theology of embodiment Sigurdson s profound engagement with the whole history of Christian life and thought not only elucidates the spectrum of Christian perspectives on the body but also models a way of thinking historically and systematically that other theologians will find stimulating and challenging Issues in Contemporary Christian Thought Duane Olson, Olson s clear and concise overview roots contemporary questions firmly in Christian responses to the Enlightenment He discusses the range of contemporary opinions their rationales and what s at stake Olson illustrates these alternate frameworks as they play out in central concerns over the being of God in relation to the universe how to understand the figure of Christ today and the distinctively new notions of being human Specifically geared to the novice theologian in college or seminary settings Olson s text includes Reflection Research Questions Suggestions for Further Reading and a Glossary Catherine of Siena Thomas McDermott, 2008 Although Catherine of Siena was proclaimed a Doctor of the Church in 1970 relatively little attention has been given to her mystical thought particularly in the English speaking world The Dialogue the famous compendium of her mature thought is difficult to understand owing to its interruptions repetitions overlapping arguments imagery and undefined terms Thomas McDermott breaks new ground in his systematic presentation of Catherine s teachings Drawing on the Dialogue and also on Catherine s 381 letters and prayers he explains clearly her principal teachings in relation to spiritual development and identifies Catherine s possible sources as well as her areas of originality By examining Catherine s life and mystical experiences McDermott shows how she herself grew spiritually and how her growth corresponds to her later teaching on the three stairs on the bridge of Christ crucified Finally the author puts forward what he regards as the fundamental message of Catherine s life and teaching Students of mysticism and spirituality will find this book a trustworthy guide through the incredibly rich mysticism of one of the 14th century s most amazing women Diabolism in Colonial Peru, 1560-1750 Andrew Redden, 2015-09-30 Uses a multidisciplinary approach to investigate the transcultural phenomenon of the devil in early modern Peru This work demonstrates that the interaction between the Christian and the Andean worlds was far more complex than any interpretation that posits a clear dichotomy between conversion and resistance would suggest A Life Giving Way Esther De Waal, 2006-05-01 Is it surprising that a sixth century monastic text the Rule of St Benedict should be a guide for lay Christians living in today's world In fact the questions which St Benedict had to face are still questions which face us today How do I live with others With the world With myself With God How do I bring balance into my life St Benedict speaks to the heart and this commentary approaches the Rule in a prayerful and reflective way It will help many people who today are seeking a contemplative centre in a busy life St Benedict's writing is steeped in scripture In the Middle Ages his rule was seen as a digest of the Bible It therefore crosses the divides of the church and speaks to Christians of all denominations The Good Work of Non-Christians, Empowerment, and the New Creation Stuart C. Weir, 2016-04-25 Have you ever considered the ultimate purposes and consequences of good work performed by non Christians Have you ever theologically considered the work of non Christians at all Is it possible that God would ever give credence to let alone honor the work of non Christians in an ultimate sense Are you frustrated by theologies of work that are entirely protological in orientation How do we make sense of biblical excerpts that talk of work being judged towards a particular outcome The Good Work of Non Christians Empowerment and the New Creation attempts to answer these questions in a manner that also challenges evangelical assumptions about the ultimate outcomes of working life Drawing strength from eschatologically minded theologies by Miroslav Volf and Darrell Cosden Weir seeks to replace protology with eschatology in a theology of work about non Christians The British evangelical tradition is specifically taken up here so as to make critical assessments of certain airtight theologies regarding human action with reference to the new creation This book attempts to create a heuristic against unhelpful hermeneutical tendencies that inform evangelical theologies This is a work that is not only theological it is biblically historically and ethically rigorous Pain That Heals Martin Israel, 2002-01-09 The Pain That Heals is a personal response to the amount of suffering that I have witnessed amongst the many to whom I have ministered and even more starkly in my own life It has become obvious that the problem of evil in the face of a loving God is not to be solved at a purely intellectual level it is by traversing the valley where death casts its long shadow that the sufferer learns the basic truths about his or her condition This book will give cold comfort to those who want instant relief but to those who are prepared to proceed with their difficulties with courage it will show the way of advance that has been tried and proved by at least one traveller Martin Israel In Search of a Calling Thomas O. Buford, 1995 Patience, Compassion, Hope, and the Christian Art of Dying Well Christopher P. Vogt, 2004 By mining the rich tradition of virtue ethics Christopher Vogt uses the virtues of patience compassion and hope as a framework for specifying the shape of a good death and for naming the practices Christians should develop to live well and die well Bringing together historical biblical and contemporary sources in Christian ethics Vogt provides a long overdue theological analysis of the ars moriendi or art of dying literature of four centuries ago Through a careful analysis of Luke's passion narrative Vogt uses Jesus as the primary model for being patient in the face of death and for dying well The Ideas of the Apostle Paul Translated Into Their Modern Equivalents James Freeman Clarke, 1884 Issues in Science and Theology: Creative Pluralism? Michael Fuller, Dirk Evers, Anne Runehov, 2022-06-28 This book brings together selected papers from scientists theologians and philosophers who took part in the 2021 conference of the European Society for the Study of Science and Theology based in Madrid Spain The contributions constitute a cutting edge resource for considering questions from interdisciplinary perspectives covering both the crucial role played by images and models in our thinking and also the limitations which are inherent in these linguistic devices Questions addressed include Can this use of images and models generate a creative pluralism enabling us to think outside the disciplinary silos which are a feature of academic discourse Can they enable fruitful synergistic interdisciplinary conversations This book will appeal to students and academics alike particularly those working in the fields of philosophy theology ethics and the history of science Salvation in the Flesh David Tremontozzi, 2018-02-01 David Tremontozzi contends that conservative traditional Christianity has uncritically adopted an intellectualist i e rationally driven view of faith in its understanding and practice of salvation Throughout he maintains that an intellectualist soteriology should be rejected because it prioritizes the rational over other behavioral and affective aspects of faith An intellectualist rendering of salvation is incomplete because human experience is neither abstract nor gnostic it is embodied and experientially relevant An intellectualist soteriology simply cannot account for the dynamic and transforming possibilities of saving grace Salvation in the Flesh offers an innovative perspective on the embodied nature of faith and the centrality of the Holy Spirit in the Christian doctrine of salvation Drawing from the cognitive neurosciences and psychology Tremontozzi argues for a holistic awareness of cognition to better inform an embodied understanding of faith In dialogue with the cognitive sciences he appropriates Jonathan Edwards theology of religious affections early church practices and pentecostal spirituality to highlight the soteriological significance of orthodoxy orthopraxy and orthopathy for a renewal soteriology of embodiment In doing so Tremontozzi offers a vision of salvation that more thoroughly accounts for the multifarious ways God's saving grace interacts with human flesh and blood From Christ to the World Wayne G. Boulton, Thomas D. Kennedy, Allen Verhey, 1994 Here is a single volume that effectively introduces students to the full breadth of the discipline of Christian ethics Essays deal with both concrete issues and theoretical foundations Relevant biblical readings and a series of case studies accentuate the text The Nature of Things Graham Buxton, Norman C. Habel, 2016-11-16 In 2015 a conference on Rediscovering the Spiritual in God's Creation was held at the Serafino winery complex in the McLaren Vale region of South Australia The aim of the conference was not to seek consensus but to survey the landscape with a view to intentional responsible action in caring for God's creation Delegates were challenged to recognize their own worldviews and to widen their horizons to encompass the enormity of the transcendence and immanence of God's presence in all creation. A group of leading international scholars and experts in the fields of science, ecology, theology, and ethics participated in a multidisciplinary conversation on the spiritual in creation with the aim of discovering fresh horizons with regard to creation, care, liturgy, justice, and discipleship within the Christian community. The chapters in this volume reflect the diversity of perspectives summarized in The Serafino Declaration, which was crafted towards the end of the conference. This declaration, which opens the volume, outlines a range of views relating to the presence of the spiritual in creation, views that are both traditional and radical. This volume highlights the current concern over ecological destruction and finds sources of inspiration in the deepest roots of our traditions and forms of spirituality to sustain efforts towards custodianship of the land and care for God's creation.

An Introductory Dictionary of Theology and Religious Studies Orlando O. Espín, James B. Nickoloff, 2007. Spanning the gamut from Aaron to Zwingli, this dictionary includes nearly 3,000 entries written by about sixty authors, all of whom are specialists in their various theological and religious disciplines. The editors have designed the dictionary especially to aid the introductory level student with instant access to definitions of terms likely to be encountered in, but not to substitute for, classroom presentations or reading assignments. American Evangelicalism Darren Dochuk, Thomas S. Kidd, Kurt W. Peterson, 2014-10-15. No living scholar has shaped the study of American religious history more profoundly than George M. Marsden. His work spans U.S. intellectual, cultural, and religious history from the seventeenth through the twenty-first centuries. This collection of essays uses the career of George M. Marsden and the remarkable breadth of his scholarship to measure current trends in the historical study of American evangelical Protestantism and to encourage fresh scholarly investigation of this faith tradition as it has developed between the eighteenth century and the present. Moving through five sections, each centered around one of Marsden's major books and the time period it represents, the volume explores different methodologies and approaches to the history of evangelicalism and American religion. Besides assessing Marsden's illustrious works on their own terms, this collection's contributors isolate several key themes as deserving of fresh, rigorous, and extensive examination. Through their close investigation of these particular themes, they expand the range of characters and communities, issues and ideas, and contingencies that can and should be accounted for in our historical texts. Marsden's timeless scholarship thus serves as a launchpad for new directions in our rendering of the American religious past.

Confronting the Will-to-Power Mark F.W. Lovatt, 2006-10-19. The author takes up Niebuhr's theology and presents it to be at its heart an attempt to grapple with the most powerful and most dangerous aspect of human nature, a quality Niebuhr describes as the will to power. Lovatt argues forcibly that Niebuhr identifies the fundamental nature of human sin as having very specific qualities and that Niebuhr over his various works develops a theology which seeks to deal effectively with this quality both theologically and practically Lovatt discusses the main areas of doctrine covered by Niebuhr and considers how his position reflects his underlying agenda to grapple with the reality of the will to power this leads to some important conclusions about Niebuhr modern theology and the present day problem of evil
