A. Fuller Maitland,1906 Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians George Grove,1911 Jean Cras, Polymath of Music and Letters Paul-André Bempéchat,2017-07-05 Jean Cras 1879 1932 was a remarkable man by anyone's measure Twice a decorated hero of the Great War this Rear Admiral of the French navy scientist inventor and moral philosopher was also a highly esteemed composer during his lifetime enjoying the same stature and celebrity as Fauré Debussy and Ravel Since his death however both Cras and his music have been almost completely overlooked In this the first critical biography of Cras Paul Andre Bempechat situates Henri Duparc s proteg s a missing link between the French post Romantic generation of composers and the Impressionists The book explores both historically and analytically the methodology by which Cras evolved his eclectic brand of Impressionism striking the delicate balance between Celtic folk idioms and exoticisms inspired by his travels Cras creative legacy extends beyond the world of music to the world of science His five patented inventions include the navigational gyrocompass which bears his name still in use to this day by the French navy coast guard and boating aficionados Bempechat draws special attention to the humanist Jean Cras and his distinguished military career he is credited with saving the Serbian army from extinction drawing on primary source material such as family correspondence and wartime diaries to reaffirm this composer as a true Renaissance man of the twentieth century

French Musical Life Katharine Ellis,2022 Explicitly or not the historical musicology of post Revolutionary France has focused on Paris as a proxy for the rest of the country This distorting lens is the legacy of political and cultural struggle during the long nineteenth century indicating a French Revolution unresolved both then and now In light of the capital s power as the seat of a centralizing French state which provincials found colonizing and as a cosmopolitan musical crossroads of nineteenth century Europe the struggles inherent in creating sustainable musical cultures outside Paris and in composing local and regionalist music are ripe for analysis Replacement of France with Paris has encouraged normative history writing articulated by the capital s opera and concert life Regional practices have been ignored disparaged or treated piecemeal This book is a study of French musical centralization and its discontents during the period leading up to and beyond the provincial awakening of the Belle poque The book explains how different kinds of artistic decentralization and regionalism were hard won or not across a politically turbulent century from the 1830s to World War II In doing so it redraws the historical map of musical power relations in mainland France Based on work in over 70 archives chapters on conservatoires concert life stage music folk music and composition reveal how tensions of State and locality played out differently depending on the structures and funding mechanisms in place the musical priorities of different communities and the presence or absence of galvanizing musicians Progressively the book shifts from musical contexts to musical content exploring the pressure point of folk music and its translation into local color for officials who perpetually feared national division Control over composition on the one hand and the emotional intensity of folk based musical experience on the other emerges as a matter of consistent official praxis In terms of French music and its compositional styles what results is a surprising new historiography of French neoclassicism bound into and growing out of a study of diversity and its limits in daily musical life
