Van Kooij,2018-10-24 This volume is the first tangible result of an international project initiated by the International Institute for Asian Studies IIAS with the aim of compiling a bibliographic database documenting publications on South and Southeast Asian art and archaeology The bibliographic information over 1 300 records extracted from the database forms the principal part of this publication It is preceded by a list of periodicals consulted and followed by three types of indexes which help users to find their way in the ABIA South and Southeast Asian Art and Archaeology Index ABIA Index The detailed bibliographic descriptions controlled keywords and many elucidating annotations make this reference work into an indispensable guide to recent scholarly work on the prehistory and arts of South Southeast Asia

understanding of the structural requirements of calendar making and of the mechanisms through which these needs could be met for the first time explains how these old octaval calendars actually worked It traces the history of Muslim calendars in Southeast Asia and attempts to put them into their historical and cultural context Understanding the old calendars will at last throw light on a number of essential aspects of older Malay science and culture An accompanying interactive CD ROM presents the reader with a tool for converting Malay and Javanese dates with access to the range of variant calendars

Elephants & Kings Thomas R. Trautmann, 2015-08-03 Because of their enormous size elephants have long been irresistible for kings as symbols of their eminence In early civilizations such as Egypt Mesopotamia the Indus Civilization and

China kings used elephants for royal sacrifice spectacular hunts public display of live captives or the conspicuous consumption of ivory all of them tending toward the elephant's extinction The kings of India however as Thomas R Trautmann shows in this study found a use for elephants that actually helped preserve their habitat and numbers in the wild war Trautmann traces the history of the war elephant in India and the spread of the institution to the west where elephants took part in some of the greatest wars of antiquity and Southeast Asia but not China significantly a history that spans 3 000 years and a considerable part of the globe from Spain to Java He shows that because elephants eat such massive quantities of food it was uneconomic to raise them from birth Rather in a unique form of domestication Indian kings captured wild adults and trained them one by one through millennia Kings were thus compelled to protect wild elephants from hunters and elephant forests from being cut down By taking a wide angle view of human elephant relations Trautmann throws into relief the structure of India's environmental history and the reasons for the persistence of wild elephants in its forests
