Nationalism and Identity Stefano Harney, 1996 The nation state of Trinidad and Tobago offers a unique case for the study of the forces and ideologies of nationalism This book reveals how this ethnically diverse nation 40% African origin 40 45% East Indian origin plus those of Syrian Chinese Portuguese French and English descent independent for less than forty years has provided fertile ground for the creative tension between the imagination of the writer in his or her search for a habitable text of identity and the official discourse on nationalism in Trinidad and Tobago This discourse has in turn been embedded in a struggle that propels the nation s story Following on from this background the study examines the changes and influences on the sense of nationalism and peoplehood caused by migration and the ethnicization of migrant communities in the metropolises      Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction Greg Forter, 2019-01-17 This bold and ambitious volume argues that postcolonial historical fiction offers readers valuable resources for thinking about history and the relationship between past and present. It shows how the genre's treatment of colonialism illustrates continuities between the colonial era and our own and how the genre distills from our colonial pasts the evanescent utopian intimations of a properly postcolonial future. Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction arrives at these insights by juxtaposing novels from the Atlantic world with books from the Indian subcontinent. Attending to the links across these regions, the volume develops luminous readings of novels by Patrick Chamoiseau, J. G. Farrell, Amitav Ghosh, Marlon James, Hari Kunzru, Toni Morrison, Marlene van Niekerk, Arundhati Roy, Kamila Shamsie, and Barry Unsworth. It shows how these works not only transform our understanding of the colonial past and the futures that might issue from it but also contribute to pressing debates in postcolonial theory, debates about the politics of literary forms, the links between cycles of capital accumulation and the emergence of new genres, the meaning of working through traumas in the postcolonial context, the relationship between colonial and panoptical power, the continued salience of hybridity and mimicry for the study of colonialism, and the tension between national liberation struggles and transnational forms of solidarity. Beautifully written and meticulously theorized, Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction will be of interest to students of world literature, Marxist critics, postcolonial theorists, and thinkers of the utopian.

Contemporary Authors Terrie M. Rooney, 1999 Your students and users will find biographical information on approximately 300 modern writers in this volume of Contemporary Authors. Authors in this volume include Robert W. Chambers, William Jefferson Clinton, Paul Ruebens, Timberlake Wertenbaker.      Blaze of Lightning, Roar of Thunder Helen Rosburg, 2008-08-01 Scalp hunters massacred her family, all the people of her village, and left Louisa Rodriguez for dead. Years later, when horse wrangler Ring Crossman came across the half-wild woman in the wilderness, she would not tell him her name. He gave her his heart, although he knew there was no room in her life for anything but revenge.      Narratives of Dependency Elke Brüggemann, Marion Gymnich, 2024-05-20 Given that strong asymmetrical dependencies have shaped human societies throughout history, this kind of social relation has also left its traces in many types of texts. Using written and oral narratives in attempts to reconstruct the history of asymmetrical dependency comes along with various methodological challenges, as the 15 articles in this interdisciplinary volume illustrate. They focus on a wide range of different factual and fictional text types, including inscriptions from Egyptian tombs, biblical stories, novels from antiquity, the Middle High German Rolandslied, Ottoman court records, captivity narratives, travelogues, the American gift book The Liberty Bell, and oral narratives by Caribbean Hindu women. Most of the texts discussed in this volume have so far received comparatively little attention in slavery and dependency studies. The volume thus also seeks to broaden the archive of texts that are deemed relevant in research on the histories of asymmetrical dependencies, bringing together perspectives from disciplines such as Egyptology theology literary studies history and anthropology      Writers of Multicultural Fiction for Young Adults M. Daphne Kutzler, 1996-01-09 Multicultural fiction is an essential part of the American literary landscape This reference helps scholars teachers and librarians choose significant texts from both the past and present and provides guidance in approaching multicultural issues as they are discussed in fiction for young adults Included are entries for 51 writers some of whom have nearly been forgotten others who are just emerging Each entry provides biographical critical and bibliographical information while a general bibliography of works on multicultural literature concludes the book Authors included range from the nearly forgotten such as Laura Adams Armer to the newly discovered such as Graham Salisbury winner of the 1994 Scott O Dell Award for Historical Fiction The breadth of authors covered ensures an historical context for the issues raised by multiculturalism and the sections on the critical reception of each author address such important issues as the authority and authenticity of the writer to comment on a different culture Contributors are of many different ethnicities and include important scholars of children s literature lending authenticity and authority to the volume itself
