A Brief History of Death W. M. Spellman, 2014-02-15 As humans death its certainty its inevitability consumes us We make it the subject of our literature our art our philosophy and our religion Our feelings and attitudes toward our mortality and its possible afterlives have evolved greatly from the early days of mankind Collecting these views in this topical and instructive book W M Spellman considers death and dying from every angle in the Western tradition exploring how humans understand and come to terms with the end of life Using the work of archaeologists and paleoanthropologists Spellman examines how interpreting physical remains gives us insight into prehistoric perspectives on death He traces how humans have died over the centuries both in the causes of death and in the views of actions that lead to death He spotlights the great philosophical and scientific traditions of the West which did not believe in an afterlife or see the purpose of bereavement while also casting new light on the major religious beliefs that emerged in the ancient world particularly the centuries long development of Christianity He delves into three approaches to the meaning of death the negation of life continuity in another form and agnosticism from both religious and secular scientific perspectives Providing a deeper context for contemporary debates over end of life issues and the tension between longevity and quality of life A Brief History of Death is an illuminating look at the complex ways humans face death and the dying

COVID-19 and Women's Health, 2nd edition Stephen Kennedy, Laura A. Magee, Stacey A. Missmer, Jayashri Kulkarni, Vassiliki Benetou, Marianne Vidler, Chelsea Morroni, 2023-02-07 As a result of the Coronavirus disease COVID 19 pandemic the world is facing one of the greatest challenges we have experienced in over a century The economic consequences for society at large are potentially catastrophic The health and social care sectors have reacted by providing emergency care on an unprecedented scale while the scientific community has focused on developing new treatments and a vaccine to prevent future waves of the pandemic Evidence is emerging to suggest that certain conditions such as obesity and hypertension predispose some individuals to a worse outcome if they become infected and that women may be less likely to die from COVID 19 than men It is also currently believed that pregnant women are at no greater risk than the general population There is an urgent need to determine whether these early observations are correct Furthermore we need to be sure that pregnancy outcomes are not affected by COVID 19 and that SARS CoV 2 is not transmitted to the fetus during pregnancy or labour nor to the infant through breast milk There are so many questions that need to be answered to optimise care avoid harm reduce anxiety amongst women and their families and inform health professionals and policymakers We also need to understand the unintended consequences of the global lockdown on women s health in general For example have rates of domestic violence risen to what extent has women s mental health been affected and have women successfully adapted or devised new coping mechanisms have women been denied access to gynaecological treatments during the lockdown including safe abortion and if so with what impact on their health and wellbeing has the female work force suffered disproportionately in economic terms have national and international recommendations and policies been sufficiently gender neutral have breastfeeding rates been adversely affected will COVID 19 make attainment of the UN SDGs more difficult etc In keeping with the Scope Mission of Frontiers in Global Women s Health this Research Topic aims to provide a multi disciplinary platform to answer important COVID 19 related questions that specifically impact upon women s health and wellbeing particular in resource poor settings The Topic Editors welcome a broad range of contributions including Original Research Reviews Commentaries Study Protocols and Systematic Reviews We would like to acknowledge Dr Nathalie MacDermott and Dr Rhiannon George Carey who have acted as coordinators and have contributed to the preparation of the proposal for this Research Topic Given the exceptional nature of the COVID 19 situation Frontiers is waiving all article publishing charges for COVID 19 related research in this Research Topic Please note that manuscripts must be submitted by the deadline of December 31st
