Prehistoric Maritime Cultures and Seafaring in East Asia Chunming Wu, Barry Vladimir Rolett, 2019-12-03. This book focuses on prehistoric East Asian maritime cultures that predated the Maritime Silk Road, the Four Seas and Four Oceans navigation system recorded in historical documents of ancient China. Origins of the Maritime Silk Road can be traced to prosperous Neolithic and Metal Age maritime-oriented cultures dispersed along the coastlines of prehistoric China and Southeast Asia. The topics explored here include Neolithisation and the development of prehistoric maritime cultures during the Neolithic and early Metal Age; the expansion and interaction of these cultures along coastlines and across straits; the two-layer hypothesis for explaining genetic and cultural diversity in south China and Southeast Asia; prehistoric seafaring and early sea routes; the paleogeography and vegetation history of coastal regions; Neolithic maritime livelihoods based on hunting, fishing, foraging, adaptations, rice and millet cultivation, and their dispersal along the coast and across the open sea; and interaction between farmers and maritime-oriented hunter-fisher foragers. In addition, a series of case studies enhances understanding of the development of prehistoric navigation and the origin of the Maritime Silk Road in the Asia-Pacific region.

The East Asian Mediterranean Angela Schottenhammer, 2008. The present volume is a collection of papers originally presented for the concluding conference of the research project 'The East Asian Mediterranean' entitled 'The East Asian Mediterranean: Maritime Crossroads of Culture, Commerce and Human Migration' and held at Munich University from November 2-3, 2007. The papers in this volume have been arranged according to thematic sections: that is, Mediterranean Seas from East Asia to East Africa; Merchants and merchant networks; Commodities and transport; and finally, Trade parameters and perceptions. Each section covers a different aspect of trade, diplomacy and perceptions across and within the East Asian and Asian waters. In order to show the variety and the different qualities of interaction and exchange relations, we have selected case studies with a main focus lying on Sino-Japanese, Sino-Ryukyuan and Japanese-Korean relations, as well as the involvement of Muslim merchants in the Asian waters. The volume, in particular, tries to draw the readers' attention to the necessity and the advantages of international cooperation and interaction investigating topics of Asian history.
