Love Is a Choice Lynn G. Robbins, 2015-05-11 Public Practice, Private Law Gary Chartier, 2016-04-07 Marriage is ordinarily a public practice supported by as well as supportive of society But it need not fall within the purview of the state Public Practice Private Law articulates a conception of marriage as a morally rich and important institution that ought to be subject to private rather than legislative or judicial ordering It elaborates a robust understanding of marriage that captures what both different sex and same sex couples might see as valuable about their relationships It explains why sexual ethics won t yield a normative model of marriage and why the kind of marital love worth wanting can It goes on to show how an understanding of marriage as rooted in demanding commitments can allow for divorce before arguing that the state should cease to sponsor marriages It concludes by suggesting that both state and non state institutions should acknowledge the marriages of same sex couples Making the Right Choice Asha L. Abeyasekera, 2021-03-12 Making the Right Choice unravels the entangled relationship between marriage morality and the desire for modernity as it plays out in the context of middle class status concerns and aspirations for upward social mobility within the Sinhala Buddhist community in urban Sri Lanka By focusing on individual life histories spanning three generations the book illuminates how narratives about a gendered self and narratives about modernity are mutually constituted and intrinsically tied to notions of agency The book uncovers how becoming modern in urban Sri Lanka rather than causing intergenerational conflict is a collective aspiration realized through the efforts of bringing up educated and independent women capable of making right choices The consequence of this collective investment is a feminist conundrum agency does not denote the right to choose but the duty to make the right choice hence agency is experienced not as a sense of freedom but rather as a burden of responsibility
